

Bulbs Are Banned by Fire Chief

Safety Program Is Given for Season

Fire Chief James M. Brett today ordered withdrawn from sale in several uptown stores an electric Christmas tree bulb which he described as "one of the most lethal fire hazards in the history of holiday ornamentation."

Fire officials discovered sale of the bulb—"one of the worst fire potentials since Christmas trees were decorated with lighted candles"—as they inaugurated their wary watch on holiday fire hazards.

12-Points Listed

Chief Brett, who simultaneously released his annual 12-point safety program for the holiday season, described the ornament as a large spherical bulb, manufactured in varied colors.

The bulb, of from one and a half to two inches in diameter, is covered with a layer of chipped imitation crystals, which give a frosted effect on the outside of the bulb.

Chief Brett said one of the bulb's trade names is "Glitter Light," a product manufactured in Japan.

Fire Could Spread

The simulated crystal covering and the adhesive "which bonds it to the globe easily becomes ignited and burns freely," the chief said. He indicated the bulb "could easily set fire to any combustible of close proximity such as the branches of a Christmas tree or other decorations."

Chief Brett warned residents who possibly have purchased such bulbs answering his description not to use them as a tree decoration until they have been checked with the fire department.

Urges Observance

Chief Brett released the following 12-point program of caution for the holiday season and urged stringent observance of the safety suggestions:

1. Choose a small tree instead of a large one. A small tree can be just as pretty, less hazardous.

2. Keep the tree outdoors until you are ready to install it.

3. Do not set up the tree until just before Christmas.

4. Set up the tree in the coolest part of the house, away from radiators, heaters, fireplaces. Stand it in water to retard drying.

5. Use fireproof decorations of glass or metal, never cotton or paper decorations unless flameproof.

6. Do not set up electric trains around or near the tree.

7. Use electric lights—never candles. Inspect every electric socket and wire to make sure set is in good condition. Discard lighting sets with frayed wiring. When buying new sets, look for UL label of Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc.

8. Provide a switch at some distance from the tree for turning light on and off.

9. Do not leave lights burning when away from home.

10. From time to time inspect the tree to see whether any of the needles near the lights have started to turn brown. If so change the position of the lights.

11. When needles start falling, take the tree down and discard it outdoors.

12. Gift wrappings, of course, should be discarded promptly and safely after presents are opened.

McGarvey to Stay in Post As State Trooper Leader

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov.-elect Nelson A. Rockefeller announced today that he is retaining Francis A. McGarvey as superintendent of State Police.

Rockefeller, in a statement issued from his temporary headquarters, said: "I will not tolerate any political pressure nor any improper pressure of any kind on the State Police."

He added that he was confident that McGarvey, "none will be tolerated."

Rockefeller, who has now retained three department heads from the outgoing administration of Gov. Averell Harriman, asserted that the law-enforcement job is of critical importance. He asserted that "we must mobilize all law enforcement agencies in an all-out drive against organized crime."

Soviet Pressure Top Concern

Allied Unity Is Goal Of Ike, Dulles Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles confer today on efforts to obtain solid Allied unity in the face of mounting Soviet pressures against West Berlin.

Their afternoon conference was scheduled between Dulles' discharge from the hospital and his takeoff for a series of conferences starting next week in the French capital.

Going Directly to Paris

Dulles plans to fly directly to Paris aboard Eisenhower's plane Columbine III, arriving at noon local time Saturday.

In addition to State Department aides and Mrs. Dulles, the Columbine's passenger list includes Col. Benjamin Sullivan, an Army physician.

Lincoln White, State Department press officer, said Dulles appears to be "sufficiently recovered and everyone feels he can take the trip without danger to his health." White said under ques-

No Settlement In News Strike, Wagner Would Aid

NEW YORK (AP)—A newspaperless New York today awaited the outcome of a negotiation session aimed at ending a deliverymen's strike at the city's nine major dailies.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner offered his help.

Some of the news was getting through as radio and television stations expanded coverage. There were other sources.

The New York Central Railroad was distributing handbill-like digests to commuters with news supplied by The Associated Press as a public service.

WRCA Has 'Extras'

WRCA, key station of the NBC network, published tabloid-sized "extras" for distribution on streets and in railway stations.

The Long Island Daily Press, one of the nine papers at which presses were still set, up a projection slide news service in Pennsylvania Station for Long Island Railroad commuters.

The nine papers that have temporarily discontinued publication are the Press, the Times, the Herald Tribune, the Daily News, the Mirror, the World-Telegram and Sun, the Journal-American, the Post and the Long Island Star-Journal. They employ more than 22,000 persons with a payroll in excess of two million dollars a week.

Furlough Workers

Several of the papers announced they were furloughing most of their employees without pay for the duration of the strike.

Widow Dies of Burns

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — A 77-year-old widow who was burned last month when fire swept her apartment died Thursday at Municipal Hospital. She was Mrs. Mary L. Nolan.

Favors Certain Timing

Dulles' own attitude is reported to be that the Western powers must sternly reject the Khrushchev plan for West Berlin, but preferably at the same time put forth some kind of counterproposal based upon solving the Berlin problem through the unification of Germany with free elections.

A 4,000-word Soviet statement Thursday night gave fresh evidence that the Russians are making a play for division among the Western powers by increasing war talk. The statement was issued by the official Soviet news agency Tass.

It accused the Western powers of stalling. Any use by them of force, it said, would be met with force by the Soviet-led Warsaw Alliance.

The State Department commented that the Tass statement repeated the arguments of Khrushchev's proposal with what it called "an added note of menace."

The department added: "The United States, which has made no threats, will not be deterred by threats from defending its rights and discharging its responsibilities to the 24 million free people in West Berlin."

Means of helping the State Bridge Authority in various financial problems. The authority controls five river crossings. One of them, the Newburgh-Beacon ferry, has been operating at a deficit.

One key matter, Abrams said, is to make the Hudson River better from a recreational standpoint through removal of sewage pollution.

Newburgh is embarked on a three million dollar project for treatment of its own sewage which goes into the river.

Legislative representatives who already have accepted invitations to the one-day private parley include Senators William F. Condon of Westchester County, E. Ogden Bush of Delaware County, Ernest I. Hatfield of Dutchess County, Sen.-elect D. Clinton Dominko III of Newburgh and Assemblymen Hyman E. Mintz of Sullivan County, Kenneth L. Wilson of Ulster County, R. Watson Pomeroy of Dutchess and Assemblyman-elect Daniel Becker of Newburgh.

Extends Into Dixie

The Associated Press reported Dixie shivering with the rest of the Eastern half of the nation today as snow and freezing cold spread across the Southland.

Ithaca was frosted with an overnight 7 below for the third day in a row, a record for the date each day.

Brown Loses Life In Starting Truck

A Leibhardt saw-mill operator drowned early Thursday afternoon in a bizarre accident which tragically climaxed a futile effort to start a pickup truck.

Dead is Harry Furness Brown, 65, a life-long resident of Leibhardt, who had been a sawyer in the town of Rochester for many years.

'Freakish' Mishap

Coroner Michael Galletta issued a verdict of accidental death due to drowning following a sequence of events which Ellenville state police described as "freakish."

Troopers reconstructed the mishap as follows:

At approximately 12:30 p. m., Brown was unable to start a 1955 pickup truck on a private road in Leibhardt, about six miles west of Kerhonkson.

His nephew, Sidney Solberg, 40, also of Leibhardt, tied a tow-chain to Brown's truck, and began towing in an attempt to get the vehicle started. Both vehicles started across a private bridge at a slow rate of speed.

Covered With Ice

Both the road and bridge were covered with ice and snow. Solberg was unable to explain the reason, troopers said, but Brown's truck left the road, went down an embankment and overturned in the creek, pinning him in the cab.

State police theorized that since the two trucks were going down an incline, Brown possibly thought he was going too close to his nephew's truck, applied the brakes and skidded.

Brown's truck crashed through a three of four-inch thickness of ice into water, described by troopers, as between two-and-a-half and three feet deep.

Difficult Task

The ice in the creek crushed the roof of the truck, it was reported.

Fight Blaze Three Hours

30 Are Routed in Cold By Fire at Cobleskill

Place Unoccupied

The burner was reportedly located in the apartment of James Wayman, a hospital patient, and the apartment had been left unoccupied, authorities said, since he entered the hospital recently.

Flames quickly spread to an adjacent three-story frame building, housing a tavern and apartments. Other buildings were evacuated when it appeared high winds would whip the fire.

The blaze was brought under control about three hours later, however, when the wind subsided.

Troopers said damage was considerable, but there was no official estimate.

Many Companies Respond

All Cobleskill fire apparatus responded and, under the mutual aid system, volunteer fire companies from Richmondville, Central Bridge, Carlisle, Schoharie, Sharon Springs, Warnerville and other communities were rushed to the scene.

Of the evacuated families, six were taken to a Cobleskill hotel for the night by the Schoharie County Red Cross, and the others, forced into the street, were taken into the homes of relatives, it was reported by Douglas Mahar, county welfare commissioner.

The fire, which was discovered about 5:30 p. m., apparently was caused by an oil burner explosion in a four-story frame building, housing several apartments and a warehouse section on Railroad Avenue, state police reported.

Zero to 10 below was forecast for tonight in the state and no immediate relief for other areas, including frost bitten southern states, was indicated.

Yesterday's 21 Record

Kingston's low of 12 degrees above zero at 7 a. m., today, was no record for the date but yesterday's 21 degrees was the lowest one-day high reading in the annals of the city engineer's office.

An even zero was reported at Brown's Station, headquarters of New York City's Ashokan reservoir system. Thursday's low there was three below and the city's was three above.

While the weather modified in most of the state, Boonville, in the foothills of the Adirondacks, was an exception with a minus 22½, which was a half degree under Thursday's low.

The Associated Press reported Dixie shivering with the rest of the Eastern half of the nation today as snow and freezing cold spread across the Southland.

Ithaca was frosted with an overnight 7 below for the third day in a row, a record for the date each day.

Perjury, Fees Are Grounds

2 Plead Innocent, Next Move Jan. 14

The first two indictments to be returned by the special Grand Jury investigating "kickbacks" in Ulster County since it was empaneled last June, yesterday charged Ulster County Commissioner of Jurors Edwin W. Ashby with perjury, first degree, and Former Superintendent of Public Works Ernest A. Steuding with "taking of unlawful fees" while in public office, a violation of Section 1826 of the Penal law.

Both defendants, named in sealed indictments returned at noon Wednesday, were in court at 2:30 p. m. when the indictments were opened.

Both Plead Innocent

In each instance counsel waived reading of the indictments, entered pleas of innocent and were admitted to $1,000 bail by Supreme Court Justice Henry Clay Greenberg.

Counsel was given until January 14 to make motions addressed to the indictments.

The two indictments were the first handed up since former State Senator Bernard Tompkins was appointed special prosecutor last March to probe into allegations of graft in the county.

Commissioner Ashby, named in the first indictment, was with N. LeVan Haver, who stated that he was not appearing for Ashby but was in court as an accommodation.

To Attorney Paul Rosen of Poughkeepsie, Ashby's counsel, who was engaged in court in Poughkeepsie, On behalf of Ashby, Haver waived reading the indictment, a plea of innocent was entered and a request was made for a copy of the indictment. Haver also moved to reserve all rights for motions to Attorney Rosen.

Special Assistant Attorney General Tompkins, who appeared for The People, stated that since the defendant had long been a resident of Kingston, was a property owner and his family resided here, he would suggest that bail of $1,000 be sufficient.

Justice Greenberg fixed bail at that sum and Special Prosecutor Tompkins then asked that Ashby be committed to the custody of the state police until such time as he had made bail, been fingerprinted and other formalities completed.

January 14 Date Set

Former Superintendent of Public Works of Kingston Ernest A. Steuding, represented by former Corporation Counsel James A. Abernethy, also waived reading of the second indictment, entered a plea of innocent and had bail fixed at $1,000. Cash bail was supplied.

Abernethy asked for a copy of the indictment, requested 30 days to move to the indictment. Objection to the 30 days time was at first objected to by Senator Tompkins, who said he would not oppose 20 days, but when Abernethy noted to The Court that the Christmas-New Years holiday season was at hand, Senator Tompkins withdrew his objection and the date of January 14 was set as the final date for motions addressed to the indictment.

Better Business Is Seen In 1959 by U.S. Chamber

WASHINGTON (AP)—Peering ahead, the U. S. Chamber of Commerce sees improved business conditions in 1959.

But its optimism is tempered somewhat by prospects of rising labor costs, possible strikes and limited industrial expansion.

The Chamber, nationwide business organization, based its forecasts largely on reports from seven key industries — autos, steel, retailing, building, food, durable goods and finance.

Attending the Chamber's annual business outlook conference, spokesmen for these industries were unanimous in their optimism.

Over-all, the Chamber predicted a 5 per cent rise in jobs, income and production in 1959.

Dr. Emerson B. Schmidt, chief economist for the Chamber, spoke of a gradual increase to a record national output totaling about 475 billion dollars in the coming year.

In 1960, Schmidt said, output should top 500 billions.

The Chamber's top economist said there has been a slowing in business recovery. Unemployment he said, may stay higher throughout 1959 than in the prerecession 1957 period.

Furthermore, he said he was concerned that strikes and other labor troubles may rise, particularly if recovery seems firm. Two other specialists said a work stoppage in steel is possible next July.

PERMANENT CHRISTMAS TREE — For the past 10 years temporary Christmas trees, beautifully lighted, have graced the lawn of the Fair Street Reformed Church, but from now on a permanent Colorado Blue Spruce is ready to symbolize the Yule season. The 21-foot, 30-year-old tree arriving by trailer Thursday was donated by Mr. and Mrs. Alfred A. Jones of 17 Golf Terrace. Planting of the five-ton spruce was done by A. M. Schovel Tree Service of Liberty, under direction of a church committee, Stanley Hankinson, Dayton Garlick and William Stophier. Church members paid planting costs as memorials. Elder Frank Byer, who has been in charge of tree lights, will continue the project. (Photo Workshop photo).

Illness Plagues Social Season At White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Illness plagued the state dinner opening the White House social season Thursday night.

Two of the guests of honor were absent because of illness and two guests became ill at the dinner table.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower launched the social season with a dinner for 80 in honor of the Supreme Court.

Two Women Ill

But Chief Justice Earl Warren, stricken with a virus infection, and Associate Justice Felix Frankfurter, still hospitalized from a mild heart disturbance, were unable to attend.

Then as the elaborate dinner got under way at the huge E-shaped table decked with pink carnations, two of the women guests became ill.

It was reported that Mrs. Eisenhower personally dispatched one of three doctor guests, Brig. Gen. Thomas W. Mattingly, to aid Mrs. Howard Simpson of Baltimore, wife of the president of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

Mattingly, a heart specialist, said Mrs. Simpson suffered from an attack of very rapid heart action, but it wasn't serious.

First to leave the table, even before she had a chance to try the food, was Mrs. Harold Tinney, one of a group of Newport, R.I., friends the Eisenhowers had invited specially.

The nature of her illness was not disclosed.

Mamie in Pink Dress

Mrs. Eisenhower wore a pink dress with a Queen of Scots neckline. She carried two white orchids as she strode briskly with the President into the East Ballroom for an after-dinner musicale that included selections by 15 feminine harpists.

The dinner ran almost an hour overtime and about 150 additional guests invited just for the 10 p.m. after-dinner musicale had to wait downstairs.

Eisenhower mingled only a few minutes with the guests at a buffet in the state dining room later. He departed at 11:55. Mrs. Eisenhower stayed downstairs a few minutes longer to chat.

Union Head Sees No Need of 3rd Party Movement

NEW YORK (AP) — An AFL-CIO vice president, taking issue with Union President George Meany, says there is no need for a labor party now or in the foreseeable future.

Talk of such a party is mistaken militancy that could do more harm than good, said Joseph A. Beirne, who is also president of the Communication Workers of America (CWA).

Beirne, a Democrat, told a meeting of his union's collective bargaining committee Thursday that many liberal candidates in both the major political parties were elected last month.

The election, he said, was a sign that legislation long needed in the public interest and welfare will be passed by Congress in the next two years and in the states and hundreds of communities.

Meany said Tuesday at a convention of the newly merged state AFL and CIO organizations that: "Labor is going to be just as political as it has to be to win its objectives."

Meany said labor was reluctant to form a political party, but will do so if it's the way "to lick the people who want to drag us back to the past."

Reds Suffer Defeat In Talks at Cairo

CAIRO (AP) — Soviet delegates suffered a sharp defeat in their efforts to inject politics into the 40-nation Asian-African conference just ended here.

The Russians were on the defensive throughout the economic meeting of delegates from chambers of commerce or their equivalents from Liberia to Japan.

The Russians will be lucky to get invited to the next meeting. An 11-nation consultative committee appointed as the conference closed Thursday will decide what nations belong in the Asian-African grouping.

One committee member, Indonesia, protested that Russia should have been omitted from this meeting because she is primarily a European power.

The conference was called to tighten economic cooperation among Asian and African nations.

Too Much for Meg U.S. Musical Gets Top Raves From Royalty, Press

LONDON (AP) — London newspapers today carried rave notices for the American musical "West Side Story" from one of Britain's most influential critics—Princess Margaret.

Her verdict: "It's tremendous." The princess, who's mad about music and the footlights, took in the show at a charity preview Thursday night. The official premiere is tonight.

Margaret bounced up and down in her seat during the liveliest moments and tapped her feet to the musical beat.

"The tension was terrific. I was sitting on the edge of my seat the whole time," she told director-choreographer Jerome Robbins afterward.

To Bobby Griffiths, who brought the show from America, she said: "I think the show's tremendous. You simply bounce along with it." The princess imitated a couple of the steps from one routine and commented: "I can't get it out of my system."

"It's too much to take in at one sitting," she added. "I must come and see it again."

Senators Critical Of Meany's Advice About Third Party

By G. MILTON KELLY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — George Meany's statement that the American labor movement may launch its own political party drew critical comment today from senators of both major parties.

Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, told a New York State labor convention Tuesday that organized labor will form its own party "if we have to do that to lick the people who want to drag us back to the past."

Misunderstood: Reuther
Senators commented generally in interviews that labor would do better to work through the present two-party system, and that formation of a special-interest party would be undesirable and wrong.

Some of their criticisms paralleled that of Walter Reuther, an AFL-CIO vice president and head of the Auto Workers Union, who told a news conference he thought Meany had been misunderstood. "The American labor movement is committed to work within the framework of the two-party system," Reuther said. "I think a labor party is wrong in terms of America's social structure. It only would further fragmentize our society."

Javits Against Move
Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) said he hoped no labor party movement would be started, but added that "it is up to us in the two major political parties to have a broad enough base" to offer organized labor adequate representation.

Sen. Carl Curtis (R-Neb) said he thinks both the Democratic and Republican parties already have a broad enough base for the purpose. He said he is opposed in general to forming "political parties with occupational or class distinction."

Javits to Push Law Giving High Court Final Say

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) plans to propose a constitutional amendment specifically stating that the Supreme Court has the final say on the constitutionality of any law.

Javits said Thursday in a statement that attacks on the nation's highest tribunal will continue as the court decides further school integration and civil rights cases. He added:

"The constitution does not now specifically vest the Supreme Court with authority as a final tribunal to declare an act of Congress or a law of a state to be contrary to the U. S. constitution, but tradition, historical acceptance and the continuity of the court decisions for over 150 years have confirmed this authority. "Considering present attacks on the court and those in prospect, I believe the time has come to provide specifically... that in all cases arising under this constitution the Supreme Court shall have appellate jurisdiction, both as to law and fact. I intend to offer a joint resolution for this purpose in the new Congress."

SNAP OUT OF IT!

It's time for a lot of us to wake up and live!

Science says we normally operate far below our reasonable capacity. Neurosurgeons say our skulls are crammed with far more brains than we actually need. The average man's muscle is capable of far more work than he gives it in these days of driving to the corner store and sitting all evening in front of a television screen.

One doctor is working on a pill which he thinks can double, triple or quadruple the amount of useful work a man can turn out.

Our view is that most of us don't need a pill so much as we need a good swift kick in the pants to wake us up to our potential.

Look around your community. Who does most of the work on local volunteer services, communities, clubs? Almost invariably the people who are busiest in their professions and businesses.

Activity breeds more activity. Stir up your brains with one job and you find they function better on other jobs.

Physical exercise is good for the thinking, too. Keep the blood flowing through the arteries and some of it is bound to perk up the old gray matter too.

Even people who have had a heart attack are capable of greater activity, the doctors now tell us. That practically eliminates the last good excuse for anyone to shut off his energy and settle down to live like a vegetable.

THE MIGHTY MITE

Less than three years ago, if someone mentioned a transistor, you'd probably respond with a puzzled "Tran-what?" Yet today, there's scarcely a schoolboy or housewife who doesn't know about this tiny wonder of the electronic age.

This thought was sparked by reading that trade sources expect 66 million transistors will be sold in 1959. That's a lot of transistors—almost one for every person in the combined populations of the 14 largest cities in the world. In 1956, when they first became practical for commercial application, 13 million were sold. In 1958, 44 million.

Next year's expected transistor sales represent 140 million dollars, with 40 million dollars going into portable radios, auto radios and phonographs. The military will buy 100 million dollars' worth.

Tiny transistors, averaging a half inch long by a quarter inch wide, replaced the comparatively bulky vacuum tube, thus making the marvels of miniaturization possible.

The next step expected is for them to be used in television receivers. So maybe we can look forward to a pocket TV set, which will permit us to attend one football game while tuning in on an out-of-town game!

FOR A FIRE-FREE CHRISTMAS

The Christmas tree, in all its tinsel glory, is a symbol of Christmas cheer and a rallying point for the family at that long-awaited hour when the Yuletide presents are harvested from beneath its boughs and opened with exclamations of pleasure and surprise.

The Christmas tree is also, all too often, a symbol of tragic disaster and even death. That happens when the tree catches fire. At its very best the Christmas tree is a fire hazard. The National Fire Protection Association warns that during recent years the nation has averaged more than 1,000 Christmas tree fires each year—over and above other holiday-connected blazes.

There are definite steps you can take to minimize the fire danger. Check with your fire department's fire prevention bureau and they will be happy to help you. Check with the local chapter of the National Safety Council or write to the Council's Chicago headquarters at 425 North Michigan Avenue. THE FREE PRESS

The first essential of a free press is the ability for publications to earn expenses without depending upon subsidies. The moment a newspaper is forced to accept a subsidy from a political party or a government or a group of rich men for continued existence, then it ceases to be free. Except in those countries where the press depends upon advertising can it be politically and socially free, not because advertisers are idealists but because they cannot afford to mix their business with their product. Just as many Democrats use soap as Republicans and just as many Republicans use automobiles as Democrats. In fact, even Socialists wash their faces.

Thus, the logic of the situation rather than the virtue either of the advertiser or the newspaper publisher has kept our press singularly free of outside control. The great editors of the 19th and early 20th centuries, before the press faced radio and TV competition, William Randolph Hearst, Joseph Pulitzer, William Allen White, Henry Watterson and I could list dozens of others, would just as soon tell a heavy advertiser to jump into a lake as to take his check. They were men of singular independence and ran their newspapers as they chose without regard for official approval or social relationships.

Also, they were members of a proud calling, important in the affairs of the country and surprisingly unafraid. Their principal task was that of being a constant critic of the government. It was the newspapers which performed many of the tasks which Congressional committees do today. Unafraid, their reporters were out to catch the thieves in public office and it was newspaper editors and newspaper cartoonists who exposed the sanctimonious stuffed-shirts who posed as saints and robbed the poor, Tom Nast and F. B. Oppen, to mention two great names, served America as any soldier in the field. Lincoln Steffens, Charles Edward Russell, Upton Sinclair and dozens of other daring men freely spoke their minds and saved human beings and the country.

That was a wholesome function of the press and still is, but to maintain this strong position the press must be financially independent. It must be able to say to an advertiser that if he does not care for the way the paper is managed, he can take his wares elsewhere. It must be possible for newspaper editors and publishers to avoid entangling friendships. It means that each newspaper group is a fraternity of men who respect each other's integrity and work for something more than their money pay.

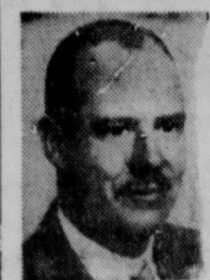

If American newspapers do not seem to be as courageous as they used to be, there are reasons and the reasons are not far to seek:

1. The cost of operations of a newspaper has gone up beyond reason, principally because of labor costs and the cost of paper. Labor costs rise as the press is increasingly proletarianized by labor unions which now dominate the working staff in all departments, including the editorial. Also, it has become increasingly difficult to fire employees which means that dead-heads can continue to hold positions, not because of ability but because of union protection. One of the most severe difficulties of current newspaper management is the inability of management to tell a reporter to go to some other newspaper where his wares would be more welcome. Perhaps that is why there are no newspaper writers of the brilliance of Edgar Allan Poe and O. Henry who did find editorial refuge in the old "New York Sun." Today, such men would take their union pay, work 40 hours a week on a newspaper and spend the rest of the day being a press agent for some restaurant or a presumptive star.

2. Another difficulty is government censorship of news. Were there no columnists, daring, not afraid to be called liars, government officials would find ways of so manipulating the news as to make all publications, newspapers, magazines, radio and TV, creatures of government press agents. The columnists still break through this very tight band which the government has set about the truth. This difficulty arises out of the permanent war during which government officials take advantage of public nervousness to protect their own errors and their own lies.

As long as this is possible, the danger is that the press loses its social value as the protector of the people.

Delaying Cancer Checkup
Is Foolish and Dangerous

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Written for NEA Service

Nearly everyone now knows that the chances of cure are better when cancer is found early. Unfortunately, there are still far too many people who delay in the presence of warning symptoms until the disease has passed the stage when it can be attacked successfully.

One reason for this is that some people seem to be terribly afraid of having the doctor tell them they have cancer and, therefore, postpone the visit, the diagnosis and the treatment until too late.

Unexplained bleeding from any part of the body openings is a warning symptom. It does not necessarily mean cancer, but it certainly should not be ignored and a diagnosis should not be delayed any longer than necessary.

Pain of unknown origin which persists, loss of weight which cannot be explained by diet, any lump, and anemia are other signs which should suggest an immediate and careful examination to be sure that cancer is not present.

There is more cancer in the digestive system (stomach and intestines) than in any other one part of the body. The next most common locations for cancer are in the breasts and in the uterus or womb. Any lump in the breast is reason for examination. Any change in the nature of bleeding from the womb or any discharge also require investigation.

Cancerous growths can develop in other places, such as the lungs, bladder, kidney or the mouth. Sores in the mouth or on the tongue or the skin which do not heal quickly may be cancerous.

Lumps appearing anywhere on the body should always be suspected.

When a patient consults a physician with any of the symptoms mentioned, examination has to be complete and careful. In some cases X-ray pictures have to be taken. A small piece of the suspected tissue or lump is often removed and examined under the microscope.

Abnormal fear of cancer is common. Some people constantly think that they have the disease, but that it just can't be found. Such unreasonable fear is called cancerphobia. The suffering which such people undergo is real and their distress is great.

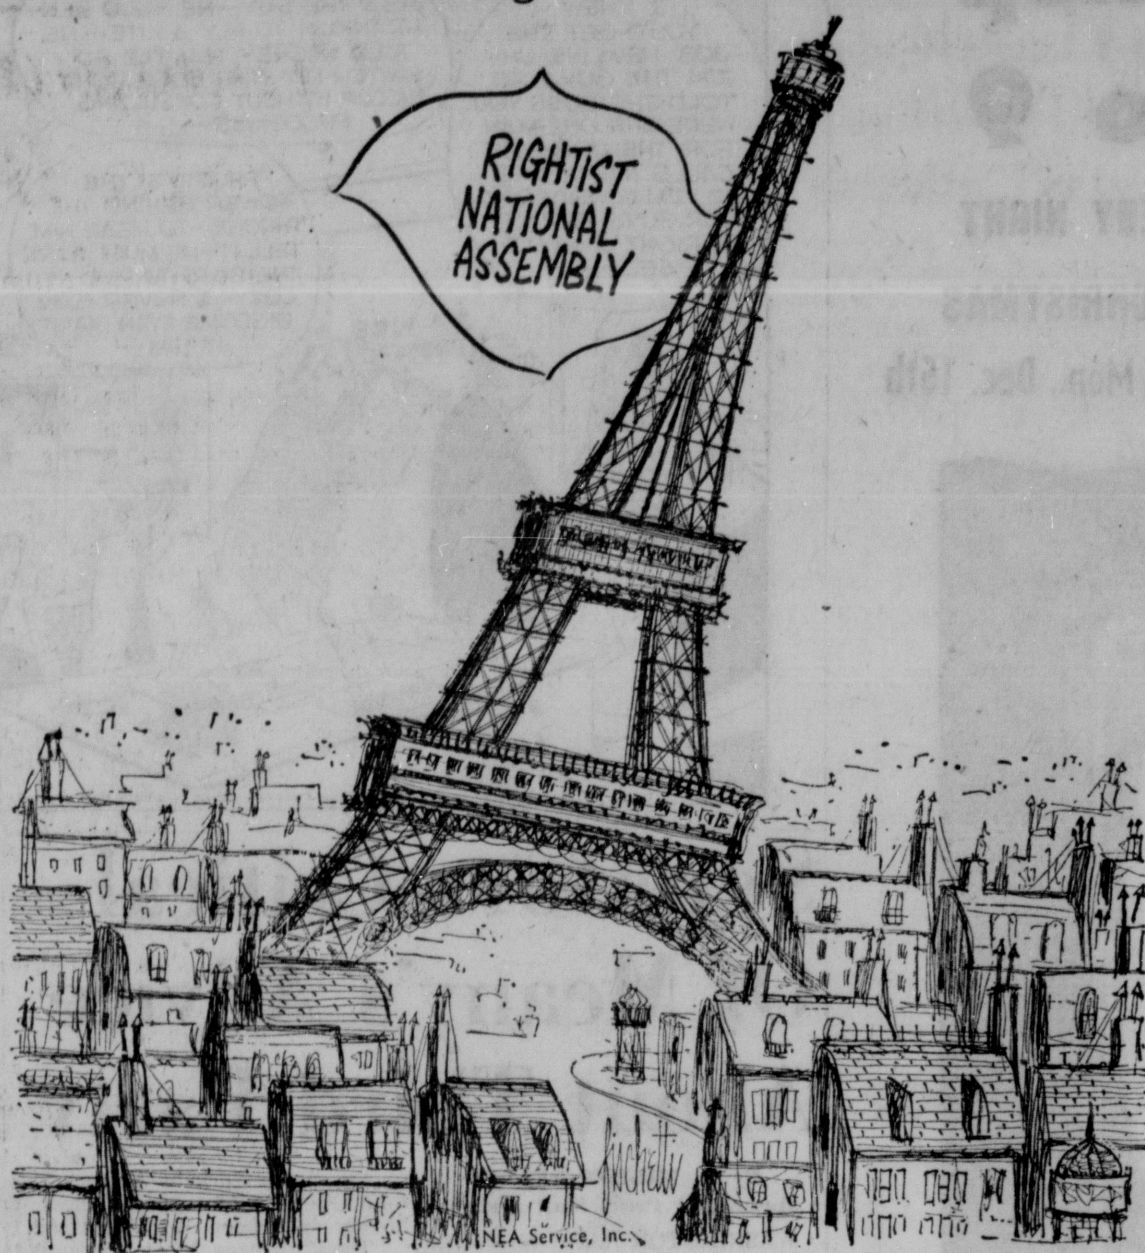

In order to keep their minds as free from fear as possible, they need to be reassured periodically that they do not have cancer. Once they have been thus encouraged, they would be wise to forget their worries and return for re-examination only at such intervals as the examining physician advises.

Treatment is constantly improving and the great "break-through"—a medical rather than surgical method of treatment—may be closer than we think.

WASHINGTON, (NEA)—The name of Adlai Stevenson refuses to fade from the 1960 presidential lists.

Democratic leaders, noting polls which show him today's favorite among the party rank and file, are mulling over his current position and wondering under what circumstances he might capture a third straight nomination.

The feeling is that if he should get it again, most likely it would be a matter of hauling him from the wings in a national convention deadlocked over other candidates.

Stevenson himself is dead set against running and clearly will not lift his smallest finger to win a delegate. Even if he had a great reservoir of strength among Democratic professionals, this personal determination would be a severe drawback.

BUT, THE POLLS NOTWITHSTANDING, party leaders aren't sure just how much strength for 1960 Stevenson really has.

California Democrats who backed Gov.-elect Edmund G. (Pat) Brown seem as interested in Adlai as ever, though Brown now says he's taking Stevenson's word that he's not a candidate.

At least one powerful eastern Democrat remains staunchly pro-Stevenson, though he isn't at all convinced he'll get the chance this time to assert his devotion in concrete terms.

Beyond this, the notion is widespread that professionals may fear to gamble a third time on a man who has already lost the presidency twice.

Some who accepted him in 1956 did so with little enthusiasm. Among these and others today, there's a strong idea that Stevenson can't communicate his personal warmth to enough ordinary citizens.

EVEN DEMOCRATIC INTELLECTUALS who hailed him in 1952 were somewhat disenchanted in 1956. Today some are alter ego, still thrilled by his undiminished talent for expressing ideas, and chilled by evidences that he often doesn't "get across."

Yet despite Stevenson's currently unproven strength and his own insistence on keeping out of things, certain key Democrats won't write him off for 1960.

Though they believe most professionals want to give some new prospects their run, the number of these is so large that no one of them might muster enough delegate power to go all the way.

After Stevenson, Sen. John F. Kennedy, "smash" winner in Massachusetts last month, tops the candidate pack by a wide margin. Others consistently mentioned are Senators Symington of Missouri and Johnson of Texas, and Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey.

A CONVENTION MOVEMENT toward Stevenson might develop rapidly if the "new faces" were struggling in stalemate.

Some politicians see another circumstance that might favor him. They rate him a "big man" of a caliber especially fitted for "big times." If 1960 should produce critical turns in defense or foreign policy, they think Stevenson's chances might be notably enhanced.

This is seen as especially likely if in his public attitudes and utterances he should somehow manage to identify himself with some dramatic major issue. No one doubts that Stevenson will continue to speak out regularly on large national matters.

Today the odds definitely are not running his way. But he is sufficiently in the 1960 picture to make him a fair bet to tie William Jennings Bryan's three Democratic nominations, and to become the first man ever to be drafted twice as nominee.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Bombing is a native American practice in certain fields of controversy, but of recent years it has been employed mostly by union racketeers.

There were impressive bomb attacks in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Worcester, Mass., Port Jervis, N. Y., and New Orleans in the know-nothing era before the Civil War. Irish Catholics were huddling in slums and voting together and thus antagonizing native Americans. They had a political veto or balance of power in some of these places.

Historians agree that these Irish were ignorant and impetuous and that some were indifferent to laws against violence. In Ireland they had been denied public education and had been driven to violence by a long experience of persecution and hounding, extending back into their ancestry. In later years the Mormons suffered atrocities at the hands of those whom they called "Gentiles," but the Irish of the know-nothing phase could compare wounds with anyone, including even the Cherokees, whom we deported to Oklahoma in a classical horror. In Salem, Mass., old records show that anyone who even "harbored" a Quaker took a risk of hanging or drowning. The Quaker, himself, seems to have been satanic or, at best, sub-human in that society.

The know-nothings, called "Bigots," burned many Catholic churches and convents and, in Philadelphia, sacked and burned colonies of squalid dwellings. Some of the immigrants were killed.

In a spectacular coup by the Democratic party, made possible by the accommodating conduct of Herbert Lehman, Charles A. Poletti, serving twenty-nine days as governor, issued clandestine paroles to two Communist bombers in New York. These yeggs had planted incendiary bombs at night in premises occupied as dwelling quarters. The purpose was to harass a non-union dry-cleaning company. Neither the crime nor Poletti's lenity aroused much outcry in New York.

By Lehman's retirement, Poletti, the lieutenant governor, got 29 days in the governor's chair. Lehman had insisted on Poletti as his running-mate in place of Bill Bray, the lieutenant governor in his first term. Otherwise Lehman would not run again. There was a hell of a row over that in the state con-

Alabama Officials Are Held Within Rights on Records

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Alabama state officials are well within their rights in declining to recognize a blanket subpoena to produce records sought by the U. S. Civil Rights Commission.

President Eisenhower made an unfortunate mistake when he was misled into prejudging the case at his news conference. He said that failure to produce the records was "reprehensible." He added that it was a "refusal to comply with the basic laws of the land."

AG in Similar Position

The question of what is or is not the "law of the land" in answering a subpoena is by no means clear. Actually, the president's own attorney general in recent weeks has declined to furnish certain records which a senate committee has been trying to get in its crusade for "freedom of information" in the executive branch of the government. Was this refusal a violation of the "law of the land?"

The late Senator McCarthy of Wisconsin was denied access to records in the Defense Department when he tried to compel testimony on "Who promoted Persecution?"

Again and again the question of the scope of a subpoena has been before the courts. The Supreme Court of the United States has at one time described the subpoena power of Congress as not valid when a committee engages in a "fishing expedition." The courts generally have insisted that, when a subpoena is issued, it must specify certain records, and not a merely a blanket demand for records in respect of their relevancy to the case.

Voting State Matter

Voting is a state matter, especially eligibility. In Georgia, they vote at 18 years of age—in other states at 21.

The Alabama state officials contend that there are no laws on the Alabama statute books which deny anyone the right to vote on account of race or color. The question turns entirely on the judgment and efficiency of the local registrars, and it is argued that their records are part of the state judicial process.

Also, is the Civil Rights Commission an arm of Congress or of the executive branch of the government? This has to be settled in a court proceeding.

Most of the recent rulings of the Supreme Court of the United States about the wrongful uses of subpoena power protect Communists and persons with Communist associations who have refused to answer questions of a congressional committee. Thus, in the so-called "Watkins Case," the Supreme Court of the United States, in an opinion rendered by Chief Justice Warren, said:

"There is no general authority to expose the private affairs of individuals without justification in terms of the functions of the Congress. This was freely conceded by the solicitor general in his argument of this case. Nor is the Congress a law enforcement or trial agency. These are functions of the executive and judicial departments of government. No inquiry is an end in itself; it must be related to and in furtherance of a legitimate task of the Congress."

The Supreme Court stated, moreover, in the Watkins case that Congress cannot constitute itself and inquisitorial today demanding through the subpoena questions which invade his privacy. Certainly states have the same rights of official privacy as individuals have recently claimed in the Communist cases.

Too Early to Condemn

It may well be that there are many Negroes in Alabama who ought to be permitted to vote. But there are lots of people in America who are the victims of injustice, and the only way they can get justice is through the proper procedures in the courts.

The Department of Justice can, of course, go into court and demand that certain records be produced before the commission. Some of the state officials might even be held in contempt for refusing to produce the records. But, in the final analysis, the Supreme Court of the United States will have to decide whether the subpoena power has been justly exercised and whether it invades the rights of the states. It's too early to condemn American citizens as law violators when they have not as yet been adjudged guilty in a trial.

The basic principle of the "separation of powers" has been in effect ever since the foundation of the republic. President Washington, when asked to supply certain records to Congress, said:

"It is essential to the due administration of the government that the boundaries fixed by the Constitution between the several departments should be preserved. A just regard to the Constitution and to the duty of my office under the circumstances of this case forbids the compliance with your request."

Ever since that day no subpoena has ever been served on a president of the United States by Congress. Likewise, even former President Truman, after he was out of office, declined to honor a subpoena in connection with a hearing before the House Committee on Un-American Activities. He claimed that it was his privilege because he had once been president. The issue never went to the courts.

The judicial branch of the federal government has refused to permit the legislative branch to encroach upon its records. No legislative committee has been able to subpoena members of the judiciary with respect to proceedings in their courts.

Certainly administration officials do not concede that they have been violating the "law of the land" by refusing to testify before congressional commissions or committees. So it is difficult to see why the judiciary of a state is said to be "defying" the "law of the land" when it insists that its judicial processes must be protected from any encroachment by Congress. Four Fires Follow

Burn Up School, Man Urges Girls In Giving Matches

NEW YORK (AP) — A man stood outside a Manhattan high school for girls, handing out books of matches as the students filed in.

"Here are some matches," he said he told them, "burn up the school."

Later Thursday four fires broke out in the building, the Julia Richman High School, in a three-hour period. The 3,300 girls were marched out briefly, but soon returned to class.

Chief Fire Marshal Martin Scott went to the school to begin an investigation.

More than 100 books of matches were turned in to school authorities after a warning was issued that any student in the school found in possession of matches would be expelled at once.

After handing out the matches,

the man, who was not identified, disappeared.

Meanwhile, the city's crack-down on fire hazards in schools continued.

Another five schools were closed in whole or in part, making a total of 31 since the fire department's inspection campaign started. The drive began last week, triggered by a Chicago school fire in which 92 perished.

Closed Thursday was a public grade school, two classrooms of a girl's high school and a small parochial kindergarten in Brooklyn, and a Lutheran and a Jewish parochial school in Queens.

A total of 31 schools have been closed in the campaign. Eight have been permitted to reopen after conditions were corrected.

Costello Trial Set To Resume Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Manhattan Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan says he gave law enforcement agencies transcriptions of recorded conversations involving Frank Costello. But, the district attorney said, he has "no independent recollection" that the records were used by the Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization.

The prosecutor gave this testimony under cross-examination on Thursday as the government began a second court fight to denaturalize Costello, once known as "the prime minister of the underworld."

Hogan told Edward Bennett Williams, Costello's lawyer, that he has a recollection of speaking to immigration agents regarding Costello, but "would have to look at the record."

Trial continues today before U. S. Dist. Judge Archie O. Dawson.

In the government's first attempt to denaturalize Costello, a federal court threw out the case in September 1956 on the ground that government evidence was "permeated with the fruit of illegal wiretaps."

In the second court fight the government is trying to establish that its evidence is not tainted by wiretaps.

Two Students Killed

TWO STUDENTS KILLED ESSEX, Ontario (AP)—A New York Central passenger train running 30 minutes late sliced a school bus in half at a rural grade crossing today, killing two boys aboard the bus.

The crossing is three miles east of Essex and about 17 miles east of Detroit in the southernmost tip of the province of Ontario.

The bus was carrying 10 students to the Holy Names Parochial School in Essex.

The train hit the rear of the bus where the two boys who were killed were sitting. They were David Purvis and Paul Bossey.

The driver, Albert Slote, and three children were taken to the Essex Professional Center for treatment. Another boy, whose leg was broken, was sent to a Windsor Hospital.

Old Familiar Ring From Kremlin

Propaganda in Full Swing Again Before Paris Talks

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — There must be a Kremlin clock that rings every year just before the foreign ministers of the North Atlantic military alliance meet in Paris. It's beginning to ring regularly.

You can see the pattern. Bong, the clock goes. Premier Nikita Khrushchev jumps up and tells the boys in charge of the propaganda section: "Start pumping."

It happened last year. Nor it's happened again.

Nothing New Offered

Last year Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was all set to fly to Paris for the NATO meeting. Then, two days before Dulles' takeoff, the Russians threw out what they must have thought a blockbuster.

In a 3,000-word letter to President Eisenhower the then Premier Nicolai Bulganin — with Khrushchev at his side—proposed a summit meeting and a ban on atomic bomb tests.

There was nothing new in it—in the way of fresh ideas—and State Department officials branded it a propaganda trick intended to disturb and maybe split the Allies before they met in Paris.

Thursday the Kremlin clock rang again, this time just a day before Dulles' scheduled takeoff for the NATO meeting in Paris Sunday.

3-Punch This Time

This time the Russians tried a one-two-three punch, with Khrushchev, Moscow radio and Tass, the official Soviet news agency, all grabbing the pump handle.

The biggest and most critical problem facing the foreign ministers in Paris is the demand made by Khrushchev that the United States, Britain and France all clear their troops out of West Berlin and leave it a free city.

The Western powers — particularly the United States and Britain—have indicated they'll do no such thing. The United States, Britain and France, under agreements made with the Russians after World War II, have troops in West Berlin.

At Mercy of Communies

But Berlin is 110 miles within Eastern Germany. For the Western powers to pull out would leave all Berlin, including the West Germans who have built up their sector, at the mercy of the East German Communists. The Soviet Union proposed to turn over to the East Germans control of the corridors through which the Western powers now have access to Berlin.

The West German government wants the Allies not to yield to the Soviet pressure. But the Russians since Nov. 10 have made ugly suggestions indicating they are in for a rough time if they don't pull out.

So Thursday, one day before Dulles was to fly to Paris, Tass opened up in a move clearly intended to disturb the Western foreign ministers when they meet Sunday in Paris and again, if possible, to split them.

Tass accused the West of stalling on Khrushchev's proposal about neutralizing West Berlin. It repeated that use of force in defense of the Western sectors of Berlin would be met with force by the Soviet-led Warsaw Alliance.

Timing is Obvious

Radio Moscow chimed in with the statement that the "situation in West Berlin will have to be changed."

And Khrushchev — now indisputably the Soviet Union's No. 1 man since Bulganin has been pushed so far out of sight no one hears of him much any more—let go on his own.

He was quoted in an interview by a German newspaper in Munich as giving this warning: If the West attempted to break through East German territory to Berlin by force, to supply their Berlin garrisons, there would be war and the use of the Soviet Union's most powerful weapons.

The trouble with the Kremlin clock is that its timing is getting obvious.

Batista Is Given Added Powers to Combat Rebellion

HAVANA (AP)—Cuba is under a state of national emergency again today, giving President Fulgencio Batista even more sweeping powers to combat the rebellion led by Fidel Castro.

The Senate approved a government bill Thursday night establishing a state of emergency for 45 days.

Under the state of emergency Batista can decree any measures he deems necessary to deal with Castro's rebellion. The last such period, lasting 90 days, ended in July.

Happy Christmas For Twins, Each With One Kidney

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—Christmas this year should be the merriest of all for the Merri-man twins Bill and Sam.

The reason for this happy outlook is that the 27-year-old brothers are in good health although each has only one kidney. And, actually, both of them belong to Sam.

It happened this way: Bill was gravely ill from diseased kidneys. His doctors told him his only chance to live would be to take one of Sam's kidneys and transfer it to him. Then, if the kidney functioned properly, another operation would be made to remove his bad kidneys.

Sam was happy to help his brother, whom he had seen waste away gradually.

"It's the least I can do," he said. A year ago today the first operation was performed at Virginia Medical College in Richmond. It was a success and Sam recovered quickly. Bill stayed on for the more serious surgery—taking out his diseased kidneys. This too was successful although medical authorities said it was the first time they had accomplished this with only one operation.

Bill, too, regained normal health several months ago and is now studying for a master's degree in accounting and management at Oklahoma City University. Sam gave up a career in the Air Force to return here with his family.

The twins also have something else in common—their wives are named Helen. Bill has two young sons, Kathy, 3, and David, 4. Sam has a 2-year-old son, Danny. A family reunion will highlight the Christmas celebration at Bill's home.

"We are really looking forward to a happy Christmas," Bill said, "and we are more than thankful for the many kindnesses during our period of trouble, especially by the people of Richmond."

Dog House Blows Up

CLIFTON, N.J. (AP)—Yes ma'am, all we want is the facts. Mrs. H. C. Mollen gave them: Dog house blew up Monday night. Dog nowhere near. Had come inside (humans') house half hour earlier. No bomb fragments found. No suspicious characters lurking about. Not a clue anywhere.

Simple ma'am. Dog slept on straw. You said. Restless sleeper, rolled around on straw, caused friction, created static electricity. Wind came along, stirred up dust in doghouse. Combustible mixture, touched off by electricity. Blew up.

It's that simple ma'am, we checked with the state police lab. Happens all the time.

Rosendale Town Board Acts on Insurance Plans

A special meeting of the town board of the Town of Rosendale was held Thursday night for the purpose of reviewing insurance coverage on town facilities, buildings, and equipment. The meeting was called by Supervisor George Mollenhauer as a result of a request made by Justice of the Peace William P. Curran at a regular board meeting in November, requesting a review and audit of insurance policies and coverage that the town carried.

At the special meeting Thursday night the board voted to have the fire insurance on the town clerk's office increased from $7,500 to $11,000 and liability coverage was placed on the Town garage in Tilton, which previously was not covered. When it was discovered there was no insurance on the contents of the town clerk's office it was voted to place $1,000 insurance on the contents and equipment in that office.

It was further decided to have two insurance companies make a survey of the town equipment and facilities, for the purpose of obtaining comprehensive and non-ownership liability coverage which has previously not been carried. This was determined to be done when among other things, it was discovered that certain town officials when on town business carried only minimum coverage.

It was further revealed that only minimum public liability insurance of $5,000 to $10,000 was covered on the town clerk's office. This will be substantially increased under comprehensive insurance.

Man Drowns

ported, and a wrecker was called. Trooper said the icy condition of the creek caused difficulty and it was considerable time before the body could be extricated from the truck.

The tow chain which linked Brown's truck with that of nephew still was unbroken following the accident, troopers said.

Built Bridge Himself

Ironically, troopers said the bridge—described as low—had been constructed by Brown. An Ellenville trooper told The Freeman the bridge was well constructed.

Brown served as a sergeant in World War 1 with the 156th Field Artillery, Battery E, New York National Guard, and had spent more than nine years in the armed forces.

He was a member of Cook-Taylor Post, American Legion, Ellenville, which will conduct ritualistic services at the H. B. Humiston Funeral Home, Kerhonkson, Sunday at 7:30 p. m.

Funeral Monday

Funeral services will be held from the funeral home Monday at 1 p. m. with the Rev. Paul W. Babich, pastor of Kerhonkson Federated Church, officiating. Burial will be in Palentown Cemetery, Kerhonkson.

The son of the late Alexander and Elizabeth DeWitt Brown, he is survived by his wife, Beatrice Gray Brown; one daughter, Miss Betty Lou Brown, a student at Oneonta State Teachers College; three sons, Harry Jr., at home, Gordon of Kerhonkson and Airman 1/c Millard Brown, stationed at Hill Air Force Base, Layton, Utah; three sisters, Mrs. Louis Fred of Kerhonkson, Mrs. Archie Hall Davis of Whitefield and Mrs. Prescott Hubbard of Washington Depot, Conn. and one brother, Arlington Brown of Leibhardt.

Eight grandchildren and several nieces and nephews also survive.

Power Clash Looms

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A federal versus state power clash loomed today on a federal court's demand that an Alabama judge and five voter registrars show their records to the U.S. Civil Rights Commission.

After District Court orders were issued Thursday, rapid-fire developments indicated further possible difficulty for the year-old federal agency probing complaints of discrimination against Negro voters.

Macon County Registrars E. P. Livingston and Grady Rogers, two of the five who silently defied the commission at its first hearing Monday and Tuesday, resigned on grounds they were being intimidated.

Damage to TV Line

Police were notified yesterday of damage done to a television trunk line at Hillcrest Gardens, Miller's Lane, by short circuiting it. The manager of the apartments said someone had inserted a penny under a fuse and used a piece of wire to short-circuit the line. It was repaired Monday after being burned out and was short circuited the second time.

"Drawing room" is a contraction of "withdrawing room," the original drawing room being a room to withdraw to.

Ashby, Steuding

Commissioner Ashby is charged by indictment with violation of Section 162-a of the Penal Law, to wit, perjury in the first degree.

Testimony Called False

The indictment charges that on October 2, 1958, Ashby appeared before the special grand jury, was sworn and testified "in substance and effect that certain checks and the proceeds thereof, totalling approximately $19,000, received by him during the years 1951 to 1956, from one, Frank Buckley of Troy, N. Y., a dealer in snow removal equipment, were for services rendered by said defendant, to wit, "bird-dogging," that is to say, for commissions for furnishing information and leads to the said Frank Buckley where snow removal equipment could be sold to towns and municipalities in the County of Ulster.

The indictment charged that this testimony was given under oath and "with the knowledge at the time that it was false" and that the witness knew "the said checks and proceeds thereof were not commissions and were not received by him as compensation for any information furnished by him upon which equipment was sold, and that he had never earned any money for supplying such information to the said Frank Buckley."

Important to Probe

Further the indictment alleges that the questions to which the "false testimony" was given were material to the investigation being conducted "in charges of bribery and official corruption in Ulster County, in that such questions sought to determine, among other things, whether an illegal fee or bribe were paid to any public officials" in connection with purchase of snow removal equipment.

The charge against Steuding is that from about May 18, 1951 to about April 11, 1955, while he was a public officer, he "asked, received and consented and agreed to receive from Ulster Bituminous Distributors, Inc., money and assets and property and a thing of value of personal advantage, to wit, a part or share of the assets and income of said Ulster Bituminous Distributors, Inc., none of which were or may be authorized by law, for doing and omitting to do official acts * * * in that said defendant agreed to contract with and purchase for the account of the City of Kingston from said Ulster Bituminous Distributors, Inc., road oil and other products sold and distributed" by the corporation.

Two Dead Now

Frank Buckley, of Troy, former snow removal equipment dealer died in December 1956.

On November 7, last, Vincent Rowan, 37, of 896 River Street, Troy, a former office manager for Buckley, was found dead in bed, shot with a .38 caliber pistol which was found clutched in his hand. He had testified before the special Ulster County grand jury the previous day. Following his testimony he had been highly nervous and had expressed fear. He was accompanied to his home by an officer who remained with him for some time until Rowan expressed his desire for the officer to leave, saying he would be all right.

Special prosecutor Tompkins later referred to Rowan as a "valuable" witness. Under the law any evidence which Rowan may have disclosed to the grand jury is not admissible as evidence in a trial since he would not be available for cross-examination by defense counsel.

To Notify Appellate Court

The "fitness" of Ashby to serve as commissioner of jurors was questioned by the grand jury after he had been before that jury and testified. That matter was referred by the grand jury to the Ulster County Jury Commission which appointed Ashby to office. The communication was referred to Special Prosecutor Tompkins after being examined by the County Jury Commission and yesterday Senator Tompkins stated he would refer the communication to the Appellate Division which under the law had power to remove Ashby from office, a power which the appointing body does not have.

Will Publicize Facts

Asked Thursday afternoon in regard to the "fitness" charge which the grand jury had lodged against Ashby and transmitted to the County Jury Board, Special prosecutor Tompkins declined to give any details of the contents of the letter but said that he was "definitely going to send it to the Appellate Division. He said "all and more facts than those contained in the letter will be made public in connection with public proceedings," which will be had in the matter.

In regard to the indictment returned against Ashby, Tompkins said it seemed to him "to have a bearing on judicial process to have a man who places so little value on the oath to administer a similar oath to citizens in connection with his duties of selecting and empanelling prospective jurors for the courts of this county."

A monk, who later became Pope Sylvester II, is credited by some historians with inventing the first truly mechanical, weight-driven clock in 990 A.D.

Uptown Rink Opening

Strubel's pond, off Albany Avenue, was due to be opened to the public for skating at 3:30 p. m., today. It will be the second provided by the city. The rink, said Mayor Edwin F. Radel, is operating several weeks earlier than it did last year. Skating hours at the pond and at Kingman Park will be 3:30 to 5:30 and 6:30 to 9:15 p. m., on weekdays and 2 to 5:30 and 6:30 to 9:15 Saturdays and Sundays. Strubel's will have a refreshment concession, music, a warming enclosure and supervision. The other pond has all but music.

Five Persons Hurt In Local Mishap

Five persons were injured in a two-car mishap at Smith Avenue and Garden Street about 9 a. m., today, and a driver was issued a summons on a stop-sign charge as a result of the mishap.

Taken to Kingston Hospital, treated for minor injuries and discharged, were LeRoy Wells, 28, of 193 Hasbrouck Avenue, Mrs. Wells, Judy Wells, 6, and LeRoy Jr., 19 months old, and Leatrice Granitto, 32 of Woodstock.

The latter was issued a summons by Officer Meyer Levy for allegedly passing a stop sign and is due for city court hearing next Tuesday night.

TV Decision Is Reserved, Junk Hearing Jan. 8th

Decision was reserved last night after zoning board hearing of a complaint against reported television interference, which appears now not to be a zoning board matter, and a scheduled airing of a petition against operation of a downtown junkyard was put over to Jan. 8.

Emerson DuBois, of 11 Broadway, who filed the complaint against television interference, holds that it is caused by a lead melting electrical unit in the Freeman Publishing Co., building, Broadway and West Street. He and four others were heard.

To Check Authority

Attorney George A. Beck, zoning board chairman, indicated today that the board is still to decide whether the complaint against TV interference is within its jurisdiction. If a motor of more than 50 horsepower is involved, he said, the board is empowered to act, otherwise the complaint must be aired elsewhere.

The unit described, which is attached to a type-setting machine has no actual horsepower.

Reason For New Date

Hearing on the petition, which opposes the Andy Buzzanco junk business on Abel Street, was postponed because a member of the zoning board, Thomas F. Sacoman, had previously been Buzzanco's attorney, and disqualified himself. Fred J. Baker, another board member, was unable to attend.

Those who testified in hearing of the complaint dealing with TV interference, held that it was traced to an electric lead-melting unit in the Freeman building. It was held that interference was intermittent throughout each day and night. It was claimed that both a representative of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp., and one from the Tel-Rad Co., Henry Street, a TV house, had traced the interference to the electric unit. The latter company was represented at the hearing, but no testimony was given by a Central Hudson employee.

Beck said operation of a 50 horsepower motor in an area of business rather than industrial character would be a violation for zoning board hearing. Otherwise, he indicated, the complaint would be one for consideration by Federal Communications Commission.

Others besides DuBois, who testified were L. F. VanWezel, and Thomas Swift, both of 11 Broadway and James Kiernan, of lower Broadway.

Although the Buzzanco petition, containing 24 names, was not actually aired, some heated discussion between Buzzanco and Seventh Ward Alderman Frank C. Sass, followed the session.

Sass filed a complaint at police headquarters charging that Buzzanco has been parking an unlicensed truck in Block Park and that he has a junk-bailing machine there. With Sass at hearing were 15 residents of his ward, who were prepared to testify.

After brief hearing on the petition of Allen A. Baker of 25 Grand View Avenue asking the board to waive a ruling pertinent to private garages, the waiver was granted. The ruling deals with erection of private garages three feet within property lines. The petitions garage is closer, but since there were no sustained objections, the waiver was granted.

Citizen-Soldier Responsibility Increases: Harkin

Lt. Col. Frank W. Harkin, commanding officer of the 156th Field Artillery Battalion, New York National Guard, spoke to the Men's Club of the Old Dutch Church Wednesday evening on the subject, "Fourth Dimensional Warfare," pointing out that in a very real sense this nation is already at war.

The argument that "the electronic battlefield, nuclear missiles and space technology demand such a high degree of professionalism that the citizen-soldier, the Guardsman of today, is no longer useful, does not cover the whole picture. Such an argument overlooks the weapons systems which may prove decisive on the psychosocial, geopolitical, terrain whose salients are defined not by armies but by the basic institutions of two competing civilizations—whose philosophies of government, legal precepts, political values, social patterns, economic systems, ideological beliefs and human motivations are all in competition. In that matrix of converging conflicts, the citizen-soldier has more, rather than less, responsibility for national security affairs," Harkin explained.

Should Act Now

"We are already at war," the colonel said, "and the readiness posture of military reserve groups should be stiffened immediately into an 'operations' posture that meets the present challenge of Soviet efforts to isolate and destroy the U. S. through technical superiority, propaganda, political warfare and economic penetration of vital overseas areas."

"We are every bit as involved in war today as we were on the afternoon of December 6, 1941, when, unknown to us, the carriers of Imperial Japan were converging on Hawaii. Although America slept, the pilots had been briefed, the bombs loaded, the mission assigned, the die cast for our people by war lords on the far side of the earth."

"Warfare has its tangible beginnings," the Guard officer emphasized, "not at the moment of a surprise attack, but when the enemy completes his final plans and commits his resources to combat. The informal, undeclared acts that precede are just as surely acts of 'war.'"

Can't Afford to Sleep

"We cannot afford to drowse through another afternoon of December 6th, through a night of no return, into another kind of Pearl Harbor—this time the odds are heavier against America than on the infamous Sunday 17 years ago," Harkin warned.

"What if, in 1941, the power of Japan had already swallowed two-fifths of the earth? What if Japanese science had in some respects surpassed our own? What if her fifth columns had penetrated every country in the world, including the U. S.? What if Japanese atomic weapons had been based as close to Alaska, Mexico, Canada, Catalina, Nantucket, Key West, Bermuda?" were questions the speaker raised.

"The Communists enjoy absolute supremacy in the weapons-systems of irregular warfare, non-military combat and motivational techniques," he continued, "they have a doctrine of total conflict management which enables them to use 'peace' as the cloak for the daggers of subversion. Soviet fourth dimensional warfare (operating in the shadow of nuclear blackmail) has weakened the security of the free world."

Make Propaganda Click

"The Soviet underground apparatus has the capability of parlaying a scientific victory into psychological triumphs," Harkin pointed out. "To many in India and Africa, sputnik is a symbol of successful Socialism. All over the world, intellectuals and politicians—already half in love with Marx—are saying, 'If Socialism can do such wonderful things in science, why not give it another chance in business, in our factories, schools of engineering, every part of our society—Capitalism is obsolete, and they are saying this in spite of the record of American enterprise, because of their belief in such propaganda.' 'Why?' asked Harkin. 'Because very few Americans can articulate what it is we really stand for.'"

"We perform, but performance is not enough in an age of mass media. The Communists capture the slogans, manipulate the symbols, pervert the communications. The facts are on the side of America, but facts don't necessarily move men to action. More often men are motivated by theories, hopes, hatreds by envy, fear or inspiration. The Communists have done their homework in the human subconscious. From superstitions and buried emotions and bedrock beliefs, they have mixed the weapons of 'fourth dimensional warfare,' Harkin stated.

Reds Coax Neutrals

"While American advertising attempts to use the hidden persuader to change consumer taste in salad dressing, the Soviets are perverting group dynamics to overthrow empires and conditions the masses to become addicts to socialism. They use the strategy of terror and the dogma of inevitable triumph to encourage neutrals to ride the Soviet wave of the future. The political bandwagon of the Moscow-Peking axis continues to roll. Although many Americans recognize the inadequacy of our policy, only a handful of leaders have made positive suggestions as to what must be done in the field of non-military warfare. The problem remains and grows ever menacing. What will happen if in the next decade we are as unprepared to wage psychopolitical combat as we have been in the past?" Harkin concluded.

$10,878 U.S. Aid Checks Received By School Board

Federal aid checks, totaling nearly $11,000 for vocational and adult education programs at Kingston High School, have been received by the Board of Education. It was announced today by Robert S. Macdonald, assistant superintendent of city schools.

The funds are reimbursements for the vocational education program at the high school under the direction of Hubert Hoderath, Macdonald explained.

Under the provisions of the George-Barden Act, a check in the amount of $9,245.52 was received, and another of $1,633.05 is provided for under the Smith-Hughes Act. The total amount of the reimbursements is $10,878.57.

Explains Breakdown

Macdonald explained the breakdown of the checks as follows: Reimbursement for trade and industrial education, $5,035.31; vocational agriculture, $1,679.39; vocational homemaking, $480.05; distributive education, $3,683.82.

Under the trade and industrial education reimbursement occupational extension classes in electricity, engineering, drafting, mathematics and welding are covered, and apprentice training in auto mechanics, bricklaying, carpentry, electricity, and plumbing are approved.

The distributive education program at Kingston High School is under the supervision of Loryne Connick, head of the commercial department.

Eleanor Would Use Red School Plan

IRVINGTON, N.J. (AP)—America should follow Russia's example and subsidize the education and living expenses of its college students, says Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

She spoke to a Parent-Teachers Assn. meeting Thursday night. The Russians, she said, are not ahead of the United States in education. "They educate only for what they want—a completely disciplined people."

Population In Soviet Up 7 a Minute

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet population is expanding by seven people every minute. Ten babies are born in the Soviet Union every 60 seconds but only three persons die. The data is published in a pamphlet, "The All Union Population Census of 1959." Extracts were broadcast today by Radio Moscow.

Few Will Qualify

BOULDER, Colo. (AP)—There's no problem giving most scholarships at the University of Colorado, but distributing the $5,000 Herrick Loan Fund—well, that's something else again.

That fund, set up in 1913, is limited to students who don't smoke, drink or swear.

Ronald M. Brown, coordinator of scholarships at the university, said Thursday it's almost impossible to find a qualified student.

Field Secretary Talks at Meeting Of Women Voters

Mrs. William Denslow, state field secretary for the League of Women Voters, and Mrs. Harry Cornwell, president of the New Paltz League, addressed an exploratory meeting in Woodstock this week at the Woodstock Art Gallery.

Mrs. Harry C. Lawson of Woodstock was appointed temporary chairman of the group, membership in which now stands at approximately 78.

Mrs. Denslow discussed the requirements of the provisional period of the group. The local agenda item during the provisional period is always the publication of a Know Your Town Study. In addition, the group selects an agenda item from either the state or national agendas for study and eventually encompasses the whole league program. Mrs. Cornwell explained the voter's service program and discussed various items on the New Paltz local agenda.

Wide Latitude

Mrs. Denslow emphasized that, although the local unit would cover the township of Woodstock, women in areas outside of the township are most welcome as members. The Woodstock Provisional League is most fortunate in having as members two women who were in the suffragette movement and in on the founding of the League of Women Voters. They are Miss Mary Van Kleek and Mrs. Nancy Schoonmaker.

The pre-organizational meeting will be held in January at a date to be announced. At that meeting a nominating and by-laws committee will be named. At this week's meeting, the following publicity and membership committee was selected: Mrs. Alvin Moscovitz, chairman; Mrs. Walter Balk, Mrs. Arthur Hansen, Mrs. M. Godwin, and Mrs. D. L. Lilly.

Serving on the refreshment committee were: Mrs. Kermit Schwarz, Mrs. Manuel Bromberg, Mrs. Kenneth Nickel, Mrs. Milton Collins, Mrs. James Mulligan, Mrs. Moscovitz and Mrs. Balk.

'God, Preserver of Man' Christ Science Topic

The fact that God's care is ever present and ever available will be brought out in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "God the Preserver of Man" at Christian Science services in Woodstock Sunday.

Proof of this divine protection is emphasized in the Scriptural account of Elijah's sojourn in the wilderness (1 Kings 19).

Passages from "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include this (243:4-8): "The divine Love, which made harmless the poisonous viper, which delivered men from the boiling oil, from the fiery furnace, from the jaws of the lion, can heal the sick in every age and triumph over sin and death."

The Golden Text is from Psalms (91:11): "He shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways."

Workshop Draws Big Attendance

The high school library of the Ontario Central was filled to capacity as parents attended the Secondary School Workshop sponsored by the P-TA.

Paul Runge, Guidance Director of the Ontario school, Bernard Stahl and Mrs. Benjamin Gerschlager led the discussion of "Secondary School Curriculum, Scheduling and Guidance Program." After the panel members presented their views, the parents participated in a question-and-answer period. The accelerated program and homework were particularly discussed.

"Parents were most enthusiastic as they participated in the discussion," said Mrs. Ralph Krieger, chairman of the program. "Many ideas were exchanged and we are looking forward to having even more parents attend the coming workshop."

"After High School—What?" will be the topic of the next workshop meeting to be held January 13 at 8 p. m. in the high school library of the Boiceville building.

Puppet Show Slated At Onteora School

The puppet show, "The Story of Dick Whittington," will be presented in the auditorium of the Onteora Central School at Boiceville, Saturday, Dec. 13, at 2:15 p. m.

A colorful fantasy for young and the "young in heart" has been described as "delightful entertainment for theatre lovers of all ages." After the performance, ice cream and cookies will be sold in the cafeteria. All proceeds will go to the Scholarship Fund of the P-TA to help a youngster toward a college education.

Girl Scout Intermediate Troops 86 and 88, led by Mrs. Arthur Henkel and Mrs. Richard Haberstroh, will serve as ushers and help with the refreshments.

Tickets are available from the Scholarship Committee: Mrs. Noelle Gillmore, Mrs. Donald Munro and Mrs. Malcolm Rose, also at Cousins Home Appliance in Woodstock; Bearsburg Feed and Grocery, Wittenberg store, Harry Allen's in Pine Hill; and from Mrs. Hazel Osborne at the Onteora Central School. Those who cannot attend are urged to mail their contributions to Mrs. Gillmore at Mt. Tremper.

Christmas Program Set by Onteora P-TA

"Christmas Entertainment 1958" will be presented by all first grades and their teachers at the Onteora Central School P-TA meeting Tuesday, Dec. 16, at 7:30 p. m. in the auditorium of the Boiceville building.

The program, an original and special Christmas production, was written by Mrs. Joseph Fusick and Mrs. John Lowther. The children are directed by Mrs. Robert Wilson, with Mrs. Mary Weston assisting.

During the festive evening, Earl Propper will lead community singing. Refreshments will be served in the cafeteria.

Kremlin Makes New Pitch for Summit Parley

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union put in another bid Thursday night for a summit meeting on causes of international tension. It included the Berlin situation but ruled out discussion of German reunification.

The statement from the official news agency Tass also warned that any Western use of force to maintain access to Berlin would be met by Soviet force and would touch off a nuclear war.

Some Western officials have proposed that Berlin be discussed only in connection with the entire German unification problem. Tass renewed the Kremlin stand against negotiating on reunification and also rejected against the Western demand for all-German free elections.

The Soviet Union repeated, however, its readiness to talk about a World War II peace treaty for Germany. Tass added that the Soviet Union stands for a meeting of the heads of state, on the condition that East and West are equally represented, with the aim of "discussing ripened questions of consequence (toward) easing international tension."

The Communists contend that German unification should be negotiated by the East and West as equals.

Cold Prevails

er Bureau reported, —2 in Massena and Rome and zero in Utica and Plattsburgh.

0 to 10 Tonight
Zero to 10 below readings were forecast for tonight. Locally heavy snow squalls were predicted for the western, north-central, northern and Mohawk Valley counties. Snow flurries are likely elsewhere, the bureau said.

A snowfall of 4 inches or more had been expected overnight in eastern New York but it did not materialize, except for 3 to 4 inches on the eastern tip of Long Island. New York City had one inch.

Other overnight lows, all above zero, included: Syracuse, 1; Binghamton, 3; Glens Falls, 4; Olean, 6; Albany, 8; Newburgh, 12; Poughkeepsie, Rochester and Buffalo, 13; and New York City, 20.

Disposal Oswego Problem
The sun warmed snow-ridden Oswego again today, but a big problem was disposal of the white mass that accumulated in the worst storm of the city's history.

The city is on the shore of Lake Ontario and Oswego River cuts through the city. These are ideal dumping spots but difficult for residents to reach until the snow is gone.

More Is Prospected

Available trucks were at work. Meanwhile, many dwellers in residential areas had to be content with narrow paths through drifts.

In addition, the Weather Bureau said there was a chance of more squalls tonight and Saturday. Five days of squalls from Lake Ontario ended Thursday, and the paralyzed city began to stir.

Business and industry perked up. School children still had a holiday, however.

Many streets were open only to one-way traffic.

No Settlement

mands included a $10-a-week wage package, improved welfare benefits and 40-pound bundles to replace 53-pound bundles.

An agreement reached Monday by negotiators after an eight-hour Deliverers' strike provided a $7-a-week wage package and 50-pound bundles. When the union's membership voted not to ratify the agreement, the present strike was on.

Under the Deliverers' contract which expired at midnight Sunday the basic wage was $103.82 for a 40-hour week for day drivers.

Foodstuff Used As Film Admission Goes to Volunteers

Canned goods, required as admission to the film, "Tall Man Riding," at the Community Theatre at 10 a. m. Saturday, will be used by the Volunteers of America for Christmas food baskets for the needy, it was announced today by Lt. Rowland M. Saunders of the Volunteers.

Cartoons will also be shown at the special kiddie party. All children and teen-agers are welcome.

Lt. Saunders said today that until Christmas Santas with red chimneys and tinkling bells would be on the streets to receive contributions for the poor of the community.

He pointed out that the Volunteers of America, which serves the poor and unfortunate, asks help especially at Christmas to conduct its holiday program.

Those who wish to contribute may do so by mailing their gifts to Volunteers of America, Central Post Office Box 23, Kingston, N. Y.

The Volunteers of America is a member agency of the Kingston Area Community Chest.

Patterson Calls Confession Hoax In Dad's Slaying

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—"I think it's all a hoax," says Alabama Gov.-elect John Patterson of a Virginia convict's confession that he killed Patterson's father during a robbery attempt in 1954.

Commenting Thursday night for the first time on the statement by Calvin W. Pruitt, 28-year-old Alabama native serving a life sentence in Virginia, Patterson said it appeared false to him. However, he plans to investigate it thoroughly.

The 37-year-old attorney general, who gained the post after the murder of his father Albert Patterson, reported two of his assistants have gone to Virginia State Penitentiary at Richmond to question Pruitt.

The elder Patterson was killed shortly after he had been nominated attorney general. He had proposed, if elected, to clean up vice-ridden Phenix City.

Erie Is Halting Ferry Runs From N.J. to Gotham

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (AP) — The Erie Railroad ends its ferry service between here and Chambers St., New York, today after 98 years.

A recent federal court decision gave the railroad permission to drop the service, which the railroad says has become "an outmoded and expensive operation—too costly for the railroad to maintain and too costly for the pocket book of the few remaining commuters."

The railroad said today that its commuter trains carried a peak passenger load of 23,435,000 in 1955 and about half the commuters rode the seven ferries then in operation. Now, only 1,200 commuters a day ride the one remaining boat, according to the railroad.

After the war General Pershing found himself in need of dental care. Following the advice of his dentist, he had a number of teeth removed. Great was his indignation when he learned that those teeth were being sold as souvenirs under the name "Famous General's Teeth."

He hurriedly sent out his aides to round up the molar. There is no record of what he said when they returned with a total of 175 teeth, all purported to be his.

Current Issues Essay Contest Set For Upper Grades

High school students in New York State will have an opportunity to express their views on issues of current public interest in an essay contest sponsored by the New York State Department of Law, Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz said today.

The student who writes the winning essay will be named "Attorney General For-A-Day." The annual essay contest was initiated by Attorney General Lefkowitz last year. All high school students in New York State are eligible to participate.

Officials Cooperated
Attorney General Lefkowitz noted that the essay contest to name the "Attorney General For-A-Day" last year met with great success because of the cooperation and assistance of high school principals throughout the state and the widespread participation by students.

"It is my feeling that such contests are a forceful instrument in providing incentives for the many conscientious and right thinking young people who represent the vast majority of our youth," Attorney General Lefkowitz said.

He said the winner of the contest would be "sworn in" by him as "Attorney General For-A-Day" at the Department of Law in the State Capitol in Albany, and will be awarded a $25 United States Savings Bond. The four runners up will be "sworn in" for a day as Solicitor General, First and Second Assistant Attorneys General, and Executive Assistant Attorney General. "By actually taking office and performing the official duties of the Attorney General and his chief aides, these students will gain first hand experience in the duties and operation of the Department of Law in serving the people of New York State," Lefkowitz said.

Set 250 Word Limit
Entries must contain no more than 250 words on one of the following topics:

Moses Is Likely To Stay on Job

NEW YORK (AP)—The State Commission on Pensions decides today whether to let Robert Moses, almost 70 years old, continue as a public servant. It seems a sure bet that Moses will stay on.

Technically the commission must give Moses its permission to continue past the legal retirement age, which he will reach on Dec. 18.

Moses holds a number of state and New York City posts. The only state position for which he receives pay is the $10,000 a year job as chairman of the Power Authority.

Moses also gets $25,000 annually as New York City parks commissioner. The City Board of Estimate voted a few days ago to keep him on.

Hercules Head Cites Dangers Of Complacency

A deep-seated American attitude that "we are the best in the world" must be quickly changed or world leadership will be taken away from us, a U. S. chemical industry executive said in Hattiesburg, Miss., Thursday evening.

Albert E. Forster, president and board chairman of Hercules Powder Company, stressing the dangers of complacency, told a Hattiesburg Chamber of Commerce group that the American philosophy of competitive enterprise, "not just in business but in every facet of our lives," must shake off its lethargy or this nation will find itself in second place.

Race to Supremacy

The Hercules executive said the whole world of mankind is at the start of a new race toward supremacy. At the moment two principal contenders are abreast — with each contender fully aware the winner will determine the future of all humanity for years to come.

"History gives us our warning, clear and unmistakable, in the fate of once powerful nations which dulled their competitive spirits by arrogance, by a belief in their superiority, and by a denial of the basic qualities which made them great," Forster said.

Above all else, he said, Americans must completely discard their "dangerous reliance on the easy way. We must work harder at school to master the technologies of this space age, we must work harder on the job, and we must revitalize the unbeatable American revolutionary spirit which gave birth to our country, built it into powerful maturity, and can sustain that power here and abroad against all assaults."

"Let's stop fooling ourselves that if we don't have the best in the world today we can make it tomorrow. Tomorrow may be too late."

Wheat Tops Gold

"Let's stop fooling ourselves that we can buy everything we want anywhere in the world with dollars. A handful of wheat is more desirable than all the gold in Fort Knox in some parts of the world. And a hand of sincere friendship is worth more than the biggest stockpile of nuclear bombs," Forster declared.

Hercules naval stores plant at Hattiesburg, one of 26 plants the company operates in the United States and abroad, started operations 38 years ago. Hercules spends about $7 million annually in Mississippi through this one plant.

Changed River's Name

Robert Gray, a Boston trader, changed the name of the Oregon River to Columbia. One claim of the U. S. to the territory out of which Oregon and Washington later were formed was based on the fact that, in 1792, Gray had visited the mouth of the Oregon River, which he called Columbia after one of his vessels.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "I don't trust anyone who can't laugh at himself," said Myrna Loy.

Film's "perfect wife" was talking about the scarcity of light comedy roles which had brought her screen career to a peak.

Trend Toward Realism

"The real problem is why isn't the comedy being written," she said. "The trend has been toward realism on the part of the writers and they furnish the material."

"There is such a tendency to conform among people that to laugh at anything or anybody is almost verboten. You can't write comedy without satirizing or being critical of something."

"We have lost the ability to laugh at ourselves. It's a very unhealthy thing."

After a two-year absence from Hollywood, Miss Loy recently completed her latest film in which she is costarred with Montgomery Clift and Robert Ryan. She plays the part of a wife with a past.

She is being hailed as "the new Myrna Loy," which rather tickles her.

Glad of Depth Roles

"Being typed is always a danger," she said, smiling, "and I've been typed so often I feel like a cat with nine lives. But I'm glad to do roles that have more depth."

Born on a Montana ranch, red-haired, freckle-faced Myrna Loy was earning $30 a week teaching ballroom dancing while still in her teens. Then for seven or eight years Hollywood cast her as a slinky Oriental femme fatale in film after film.

When stars like Tab Hunter were still in their diapers, Myrna was earning $3,000 a week up as perhaps the screen's all-time favorite wife, the woman every man wanted to marry and bring home to mother. Off-screen, her four matrimonial ventures fared less happily.

'Thin Man' Big Help

The springboard for this phase of her career was the immensely successful "Thin Man" series in which she was teamed as the understanding wife of William Powell. They are popular all over again now as television reruns.

She has been one of the film colony's busiest workers in furthering the cultural activities of the United Nations.

"The years I haven't been so active in films weren't wasted," she said thoughtfully. "They have brought me much experience in life and living."

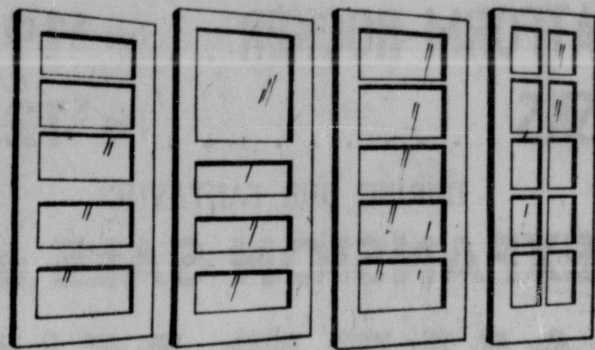

"The world consists of more than government moves. The artist used to be looked upon as suspect and unreliable. That was ridiculous."

Rates Self Optimist

Miss Loy says she has "no permanent philosophy" but added: "I do feel I am an optimist, although there is certainly much in the world to discourage one. You can't help but be hopeful. Life is more of a challenge now than ever—there is so much going on around us."

"Life becomes a dead end for people only because they don't know how to stay active."

Loss Near $100,000

SARANAC LAKE, N. Y. (AP)—A downtown business building was destroyed by fire Thursday. The two-story frame and stucco building housed an automobile agency, a gasoline station and a dance studio. The owner estimated the loss at $75,000 to $100,000. There were no injuries. A woman who worked in the automobile agency said she heard an explosion and discovered the fire around the coal-stoker on the first floor.

BRIDGESmart Bidding Nets Six N.T.

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
Shortly before the start of the Master's pairs at the Summer Nationals veteran Louis Levy of New Orleans and young Wilson Landley of Orlando formed a brand new partnership to play in the event.

Just to show that a new partnership can do as well as an old established one they survived a scorer's error and the vicissitudes of 104 hands to win the event.

Here is one of their most spectacular results. Of course, the six no-trump contract they reached is a lay down, but most other pairs that bid the slam either made it in clubs or went down in hearts or spades.

Louis had a sound, although aceless, opening bid. Wilson's three-club response and the three-spade rebid were normal. Now Wilson decided not to bother with his five-card heart suit and simply rebid his clubs whereupon Louis decided to take full control of the hand and used the Blackwood Convention to ask for aces.

For a moment the partnership trembled in the balance. Wilson considered a seven bid, but eventually assumed that his partner knew what he was doing and passed.

Firms Must Specify
Nature of Tubes

WASHINGTON (AP)—A government consent order approved today requires two New York City firms to say when the radio and television tubes they distribute are government surplus or contain used parts.

The Federal Trade Commission announced the order naming Concord Radio Corp. and Fay-Bill Distributing Co.

An FTC complaint, issued last March 27, charged the affiliated firms advertised as brand new cathode ray tubes containing used envelopes or shells, and that they did not disclose the true nature of the tubes.

The agreement is for settlement purposes and does not constitute an admission by the firms that they violated the law.

Islands Bridge

The Thousand Islands International Bridge, formally opened in 1938, extends from Collins Landing, N. Y., to Ivy Lea, Ontario. This crossing, eight and one-half miles long, utilizes the islands to reduce the span lengths required.

Jet Pilot Killed

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The pilot of a jet fighter was killed Thursday when he bailed out of his crashing aircraft and his parachute failed to open.

He was Lt. Col. Alston L. Brown, 37, of Scottsville, N. Y., near Rochester. He was commander of the 56th Fighter-Interceptor Squadron at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base near here.

The F104 jet crashed in a sparsely populated area and exploded. The nearest house was about an eighth of a mile away. Brown is survived by his father, his wife and four children.

Asks FCC Transfer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission received Thursday an application from television station WKTV, Utica, N. Y., for transfer of control to the Mid-New York Broadcasting Corp.

The FCC recently returned a similar application from the station because of technical errors. The Dutch controlled Manhattan Island for 55 years.

Business Pace
Quickened; Jobs
Below 1957 Level

ALBANY—Business in New York State quickened its pace in October, attaining a rate "better than usual for this time of year," State Commissioner Edward T. Dickinson reported today. He said, however, that employment was still considerably below the 1957 levels.

The October pickup lifted the seasonally adjusted Index of Business Activity two points over the previous month. At 132 (1947-1949 equals 100), the index was one point below October 1957 and three points below the 135 index peak maintained from April through July of 1957.

Commissioner Dickinson reported that total nonagricultural employment in the state for the month, 6,075,600, was 8,900 higher than in September, but 180,700 below October 1957. Manufacturing employment at 1,777,700, showed a dip of 8,500 from September, most of the decline taking place in durable goods industries, principally transportation equipment. Non-manufacturing employment rose 15,500, largely due to seasonal hirings in retail establishments.

Commissioner Dickinson noted that the number of regular unemployment benefit claimants rose to 300,300 in the week ended November 21, an increase of 18,400 over the total four weeks earlier, and 72,900 above the year-ago level. In addition, claimants for temporary unemployment benefits totaled 63,400, declining 36,100 from the peak reached in September as more persons completed the extra 13 weeks of compensation allowed under the law.

The number of dwelling units authorized in the state dipped below the total of a year earlier for the first time since April, 1958. However, the number of dwelling units authorized in the first 10 months this year—70,565—was 14 per cent ahead of the corresponding 1957 period.

Theater Exchange

NEW YORK (AP)—Another cultural exchange program between this country and Europe is bringing the Polish State Jewish theatre here for a national tour next spring.

The Yiddish-speaking aggregation is being sponsored by the National Jewish Welfare Board and Jerry Hoffman, State Department approval has been given the venture.

The group's repertory includes works of Sholom Aleichem, Jacob Goldfaden and Jacob Gordin.

Farm Exports Value
Down 5 PC of 1957

WASHINGTON (AP)—The value of agriculture exports during the first four months of this fiscal year was estimated by the Agriculture Department at $1,270,000.

The present fiscal year began July 1 and the department's estimate was for July, August, September and October. The total was 5 per cent less than for the comparable period last year.

The department report said that compared with last year, there were quantity and value declines this year in cotton, tobacco, cottonseed oil, soybeans, flaxseed, fruits, animal fats, hides and skins and dairy products. Wheat, feed grains, rice, rye and soybean oil gained.

October's shipments alone were valued at 365 million dollars as compared with 372 millions in October 1957.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—On the next 10 days depends the chance of the nation's retail merchants to top last year's record Christmas business.

Early reports indicate that in most sections of the nation sales so far are running even with or better than a year ago. Predictions of this year's increase over last range from 2 to 5 per cent.

Weather Hurts Some
Some cities have had tough sledding, though. Heavy snows and cold winds have kept many shoppers at home.

Chances for a record retail holiday season appear excellent. Volume was rising in November. The Commerce Department estimates total sales, seasonally adjusted, hit 174 billion dollars. This was some 600 million better than in the same month of 1957. Most of the gain was due to increased sales of autos, furniture and appliances.

To beat last year's record December business of 194 billion dollars, merchants pin their hopes on two things: increased income left over after taking care of the necessities and improved confidence among consumers as to the state of business in general and their own financial prospects.

Discretionary income started rising during the summer. This is that part of income which may be saved with no immediate impairment of living standards.

Increase Since September
Many economists believe that such income—open for the merchants to tap now—has increased further since September.

Merchants have some good prospects in specialized fields. Government employees have larger paychecks in specialized fields. Government employees have larger paychecks this Christmas than last. Members of Christmas clubs received nearly 1½ billion dollars this year, 3 per cent more than last year's previous record.

Wall Street brokerage houses, enjoying big markets and commissions, are expected to hand out generous bonuses to their employees.

Christmas bonus plans of leading American corporations indicate that the big majority will be handing out bonuses this year. Only a handful say they are discontinuing the practice because of the recent recession.

Gateway Association Christmas Party Set

The annual Christmas party of the Gateway Association will be held in the dining room at Wimpy's, 92 Broadway, Dec. 28 from 1:30 to 5 p. m.

No alcoholic beverages will be served during those hours. Each member attending will bring a gift for the exchange and may invite two guests. Entertainment will be provided.

Yul Brynner's Wife Tells of Family Life; Former Actress Now Works in Hospital Lab

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — When adoring women fans mob Yul Brynner on the street, tear buttons from his clothing and fight for autographs, his wife, the former Virginia Gilmore, doesn't turn a blonde hair.

"I think it's fine. If nobody noticed him, I'd worry. Yul is big enough to take care of himself," she says.

If there is any jealousy in the Brynner family, it's probably on Yul's part. And the cause is not another man, but a microscope. For the last two years the glamorous Virginia, a former star of stage and screen, has spent most of her waking hours doing microscopic photography in connection with her work in cancer research at Mt. Sinai Hospital here.

"I work from 9 to 5 every day at the hospital," says she. "And often I bring the slides home with me and do some work in the evening. I guess Yul does get a little tired of that sometimes. But then he has his own hobby of photography, and when I persuaded him to develop some of my cell photographs in his dark room, he got interested too."

The Brynner family—Yul, Virginia and son Rocky, 12—celebrated Christmas the weekend before Thanksgiving this year, before Brynner left to take over the part of the late Tyrone Power in the movie, "Solomon and Sheba," being filmed abroad. Virginia's present from her famous, shaven-pated husband was a sable stole big enough for a blanket.

"I find the study of living cells more romantic and dramatic than any part I ever played on the stage," says she. "I got interested in it a couple of years ago when I was looking for something to keep me busy and volunteered for work at the new hospital here. I was assigned to cancer research, and started out just gathering up test tubes and doing such odd jobs. Then I got acquainted with Drs. Marianna and Francis Maslin, that wonderful husband-and-wife research team whose work is getting such great acclaim right now. They started to train me, and I became fascinated with the work."

"Then while Yul was making 'The Journey' in Vienna last year, I went along and studied at the University of Vienna. The Maslins arranged for me to take courses in microscopic photography, and by the time Yul finished his picture I had earned my degree as a cytologist—that means study of single cells. Now I could get a job in any lab in the country."

Virginia is a native Californian who attended the University of California at Berkeley before deciding to try her luck on the New York stage. She was an established actress, with 90 movies and a number of successful Broadway plays to her credit, when she met Yul Brynner.

"After our marriage I never had any desire to go back to the stage or screen," says Virginia. "We did do a daily 30-minute TV show together for a while in the early days, when we were broke."

"Later, when the money problem was solved, I couldn't bear to turn my child over to a stranger. Now Rocky's in prep school and is only at home on weekends, so I have time for some outside work. That's why I went into this research. And I'm glad I chose that rather than going back to acting. No family is big enough for two stars."

Good Taste Today

By EMILY POST

Author of "Children Are People" and "Etiquette" etc.

THE DIVORCED FATHER OF THE BRIDE

Dear Mrs. Post: My brother was divorced many years ago and has made his home with us ever since. He has a daughter who is living with his ex-wife, who is married again. However, the daughter has always been very fond of her father and comes to our house at least once a week to visit him. Now comes her wedding invitation, sent in her mother's and stepfather's names. Just as though her own father didn't exist. He is very much hurt over this. Wasn't this very belittling to him?

Answer: I'm sorry, but you are quite wrong! No matter what the feelings of the parents might be, it would be in very worst taste to have included his name on the invitations. In other words, the absence of his name is a requirement of propriety and is not in any way belittling to the bride's father. His importance is shown when he walks up the aisle of the church with his daughter and gives her away.

Must Shower Guest Be Invited to Wedding?

Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married shortly and was given a bridal shower last week. One of the women present at the shower is one I did not intend to invite to my wedding reception, as she is not a really intimate friend. Am I under any obligation to invite her to the reception because she was at my shower?

Answer: If your reception is not going to be so overcrowded that there will not be room for her, you should invite her to it. The fact that she came to a shower given for you shows that she considers herself to be an intimate friend of yours.

Dressing for an Opening Night

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I have tickets for the opening night of a new play. I have been told that evening clothes are a must on a first night. Will you please tell me if this is true or may day clothes be worn?

Answer: Until a few years ago evening clothes were necessary at the theatre on an opening night. Today, I am sorry to say, this is no longer so.

To help you plan your wedding from beginning to end, Mrs. Post has written booklet No. 501, "Etiquette of Weddings." Details on the ceremony and expense are included. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy, send 25 cents in coin to Dept. EP, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Carol Downs Visits UN With Classmates

SOUTH HADLEY, Mass. — Miss Carol Downs was among the forty Mount Holyoke College students of international relations who spent a two-day field trip in New York at the United Nations.

They attended meetings and heard speakers from various delegations and from the Secretariat. Many special briefings were given to the group. Dr. Djafar Abdoh, the permanent representative of Iran, talked privately to them about his compromise resolution on the question of Cyprus. Other speakers were from the United States, Japan and Ceylon. The Mount Holyoke visitors also were treated to a reception at the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, and many girls also had luncheon in the Delegates' Dining Room.

Miss Downs is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Downs of Kerhonkson, and graduated from Oakwood School, Poughkeepsie. She is a junior at Mount Holyoke.

Netherlands' Band To Tour America; Four Days Upstate

The world-famous Netherlands' National Band of the Salvation Army, which has presented its unique brand of music before many of the crowned heads of Europe, will make its first tour of the United States next year and participate in New York's "Year of History" celebration.

State Sen. Ernest I. Hatfield, chairman of the Temporary State Commission on Historic Observances, made the announcement today.

The 36-piece all-brass band, conducted by the renowned Bandmaster Bernard Verkaaik, will arrive in New York City on May 2, 1959. The band will open a three-day concert series in New York City on May 8 through 10, followed by a concert in Buffalo on May 18. Concerts also will be held in Pennsylvania, Ohio and other western states.

The Salvation Army Executive Headquarters advised Senator Hatfield that due to the deep interest of the Netherlands people in the Dutch background of the Hudson Valley counties, the band has held four days open for special appearances in upstate New York. Several Hudson Valley counties have made tentative plans to include the band in their local historical observances.

The band, composed of the finest musicians in the Netherlands, was organized shortly after World War I as the Dutch were digging themselves out from under the ruins of war, the Salvation Army said.

Sensing after World War II that the spirit of the Netherlands people was at a low ebb, the best musicians in the nation banded together again to stimulate a new national pride and drive. This same spirit, expressed in music, will be reenacted for New York audiences, Sen. Hatfield stated.

The band played in all the war-ravaged communities until the rebuilding program had been completed. Salvation Army authorities said the band played a vital part during this reconstruction period. It was this work that brought public acclaim to the band and the demand that it continue its present stature as a national symbol.

The group was forbidden during the war to play together and they hid their instruments and uniforms. Since they were not allowed to use their musical instruments, the group formed a chorus and continued to entertain their countrymen.

The band has toured extensively in Europe and has performed at virtually all royal ceremonies in the Netherlands. The band has established a reputation for its unique arrangements of classical music, the spokesman said.

In New York State the band is expected to play many of the famous marches of the American composer, John Phillip Sousa, and also folk songs, Senator Hatfield said.

Ellenville Firm Is Opening New Furniture Display

The grand opening of Abel-Kagan Inc. located at the peak of Terrace Hill, Route 209, Ellenville, will be held Sunday, Dec. 14.

The new showrooms, which provide 11,000 square feet of space, will display several price classes of household and institutional furniture, carpeting, bedding, draperies and household accessories, the company said, and noted an expansion of its line carried in the former showroom at 88 Center Street.

The new furniture house, constructed by the Ellsworth McDole Construction Company, was designed to provide more than one acre of parking facilities.

The firm, founded by Isadore Abel, has served Ulster, Orange and Sullivan Counties for 34 years.

His son, Herman Abel, partner in the Abel-Kagan firm, joined his father when he returned from service in World War II. Upon Mr. Abel's death, the business was operated as I. Abel & Son until March, 1956 when Selwyn Kagan of Liberty merged with the Abel firm to form Abel-Kagan, Inc., at 88 Center Street.

Kagan, a widely known decorator in the Catskills area, began his interior decorating career in New York City in 1937 and following service in World War II, where he staged productions with the Army Special Services, he planned interiors for several Sullivan County hotels.

He formerly operated the furniture outlet, "The Barn" on Neversink Road, Liberty until he joined I. Abel & Son.

Man Is Critical, Another Dead in Rift Over Wife

WAVERLY, N. Y. (AP)—One man was in critical condition today, another was dead. State Police said there apparently had been a dispute involving the injured man's wife.

Troopers said they believed Clarence Price, 45, shot Lester Hoose, 54, a neighbor, then killed himself. The events occurred Thursday in the small community of Castle Hole, three miles east of this Tioga County village.

Hoose was in a hospital in Sayre, Pa., in critical condition. Troopers said a dispute arose between the men over attentions Price allegedly paid Hoose's wife, 51-year-old Bessie.

The State Police said this apparently was what occurred: While the Hoses were away in the afternoon, Price forced his way into their home. When the Hoses returned, Price fired a 22-caliber rifle. Though wounded in the head, Hoose grabbed a heavy iron frying pan and attacked Price, who fled.

A neighbor called State Police and said he had heard a shot. They found a rifle outside the neighbor's cellar and a box of shells in the cellar. They followed tracks into a field and found Price shot through the chest.

Coroner Rollie Kolb said Mrs. Hoose had complained to Waverly Police earlier this week that Price had threatened her.

The coroner said Price was a brother of Raymond Price, a police captain in Ithaca.

Kolb withheld a verdict pending further investigation.

Supervisor George Majestic of the Town of Gardiner, will meet with the Town Board of the Town of Rosendale Monday, Dec. 15, at 8 p. m. to discuss his experience during 1958 in purchasing road oil through the state contract at the state contract price, at which he reports to be a substantial savings to the taxpayers.

The board adopted the resolution, inviting Supervisor Majestic to the meeting which is called for that purpose only.

See Cronin Assuming Office After Holidays

NEW YORK (AP) — The new president of the American League will be Joe Cronin and his office will be located in Boston, an authoritative source informed The Associated Press.

The informant said Cronin general manager of the Red Sox, will take over the post shortly after the Christmas holidays.

The source also disclosed that Cronin had been informed of his acceptance by the owners last week before the baseball meetings in Washington had ended.

Cronin, 52, is expected to receive a five-year contract at $50,000 a year and will be allowed an annual $15,000 expense account.

He will succeed 72-year-old Will Harridge, who resigned as league president Dec. 3. Harridge still had eight years to serve on his 10-year contract.

"The owners want to have their new president before the New York writers' baseball dinner (Feb. 1)," the source said. "They don't like the idea of having a lame duck in the president's chair."

The "lame duck" was in reference to Harridge, who agreed to stay on until his successor was selected.

Cronin Contacted

The committee named to pick a recommended successor definitely has contacted Cronin. It reportedly was told he would be "flattered and honored" if chosen.

Cronin refused to discuss the matter except to say that he knew nothing more on the subject than he did when he left the Washington meetings.

Cronin, however, notified the committee he planned to move the office of the presidency from Chicago to Boston after his official acceptance.

In Chicago, Charles Comiskey, vice president of the White Sox, said he would "go down the wire" to keep American League offices in Chicago if Cronin is named president of the league.

According to a committee member, Cronin will request a meeting of the American League owners either in New York or in Boston the first week in January. It will make its recommendation then.

Cronin, a former shortstop with Washington and Boston, was voted into the Hall of Fame in 1956. He has served in the Red Sox front office since 1948.

Kentucky Cats Face St. Louis In TV Feature

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Kentucky and St. Louis, both among collegiate basketball's top ten, could force a reshuffle of ratings in their nationally televised clash Saturday at Lexington.

Without the fanfare of a nationwide audience, this contest of unbeaten would attract major attention in its own right. St. Louis is No. 9 in The Associated Press poll with two victories and Kentucky is No. 2 and owner of four straight successes.

St. Louis, under new Coach John Benington, will have the advantage in height.

Kentucky, on the other hand, is opening a long home stand and will be playing in more familiar surroundings. The Wildcats have been licked at home only five times in just under 16 years.

The Billikins, after trouncing South Dakota and Ohio State, will be meeting the first of four major conference champions they must play before the first of the year. Kentucky won last year's game against St. Louis 73-60 and the series stands at 4-4, two of the losses to the Bills coming in the Sugar Bowl.

Game time is 3 p.m. (EST). The contest opens the new college TV game of the week series (NBC).

Dawkins, Heisman Winner, Worries About Hockey

By JACK CLARY

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Pete Dawkins, army's All America halfback who received the Heisman Trophy Wednesday night, is more concerned how the West Point hockey team will do against Brown Saturday than how his gridiron career looks in retrospect.

The cadet senior, acknowledged as the best all-around college football player in the country, fretted about missing two days of hockey practice during the week before the Army team leaves for Providence, R. I., Friday.

"We have a 1-1 record so far," he explained, "and with football taking up part of the practice season, I sure do need the week. My legs are just getting used to the transition from football. You use different muscles skating than running."

Someone asked if a quick switch back to the gridiron for five days in prepping for the North-South All Star game in Miami Christmas night would not bother him. Dawkins refused to be concerned.

Nor would he show any concern, pro or con, over a fabulous football career he concluded by leading the Cadets to a 22-6 victory over Navy Nov. 29. It capped Army's first unbeaten season since 1949, marred only by a 14-14 tie with Pitt, and made Dawkins the first West Point Heisman winner since 1946 when Glenn Davis took the award. Doc Blanchard won it in 1945.

Funeral Services Held For Hall of Fame Star

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Funeral services were held here today for Joseph (Mike) Donahue, 84, charter member of football's Hall of Fame, who died Thursday after an illness of several months.

The pint-sized native of County Kerry, Ireland, came to the United States when he was 12. He was educated at Yale, where he won letters in five sports.

He coached football teams at Alabama Polytechnic Institute (Auburn) and Louisiana State University. In 1951 he was one of the 32 players and 31 coaches named for the football Hall of Fame established at Rutgers University.

Fuel bills in the average home can be cut 10 per cent by keeping window shades drawn tight dusk to dawn during winter.

First baseman Dale Long, Cubs player representative, will fly to Chicago Monday from his North Adams, Mass., home at Wrigley's invitation to peruse the club's books.

"The light of truth is the strongest argument," said Wrigley. "Remove the aura of secrecy and it's no longer a cause for suspicion."

"The thing I want Dale Long and the players to learn is that gross receipts and net income are vastly different things."

"He will be shown just how much our operation costs, where the money is going and how expenses are met from year to year. We have nothing to hide and he can look at the books for the past 33 years if he wants."

Last week in Washington, club owners voted against a players' proposal that players' salaries in the future be equal to 20 per cent of the gross intake of each club.

Olin Keitt, 80-year-old Hubbard druggist, didn't go to the funeral services. Keitt, the man who gave Speaker his first baseball, said softly:

"I want to remember him as he was—a skinny, freckle-faced kid who played baseball in the alley and became the greatest player of all time."

Keitt recalled the day the older boys wouldn't let Tris play in a game because he was too little and inexperienced. "I'll be playing where you can't even see me some day," Tris threatened.

Speaker died last Monday afternoon of a heart attack at the age of 70. Death came at the end of a fishing trip.

Hubbard, Tex. (AP) — Tris Speaker rests among the cedars of the little cemetery overlooking the town from which he sprang to everlasting baseball fame.

Funeral rites for the famed major league player of the first quarter of the century were held Thursday with many from baseball here to pay their respects.

Wreaths from the American and National Leagues, Commissioner Ford Frick, the baseball Hall of Fame, big league ball clubs and individuals, including Ty Cobb, the last of a great triumvirate, crowded the little chapel of Wolfe Funeral Home.

Funeral rites for the famed major league player of the first quarter of the century were held Thursday with many from baseball here to pay their respects.

Wreaths from the American and National Leagues, Commissioner Ford Frick, the baseball Hall of Fame, big league ball clubs and individuals, including Ty Cobb, the last of a great triumvirate, crowded the little chapel of Wolfe Funeral Home.

Cobb, Speaker and the late Babe Ruth have been regarded as the all-time major league outfield.

Former big league players Pete Donohue, Fed Marberry, Buster Mills, Sid Judson, Art Shires, Bobby Bragan, Otis Maertz and Dale Mitchell were in the overflow crowd that heard the Rev. William J. Fleender, rector of the Hubbard Episcopal Church, deliver the funeral rites.

Also there was a wreath that held the framed picture of the Ceburne team of 1906 in the Texas League. That was where Speaker made his start in professional baseball. He was to play 27 years in the big leagues and become one of the greatest fielders and hitters in the history of the game.

Olin Keitt, 80-year-old Hubbard druggist, didn't go to the funeral services. Keitt, the man who gave Speaker his first baseball, said softly:

"I want to remember him as he was—a skinny, freckle-faced kid who played baseball in the alley and became the greatest player of all time."

Keitt recalled the day the older boys wouldn't let Tris play in a game because he was too little and inexperienced. "I'll be playing where you can't even see me some day," Tris threatened.

Speaker died last Monday afternoon of a heart attack at the age of 70. Death came at the end of a fishing trip.

First baseman Dale Long, Cubs player representative, will fly to Chicago Monday from his North Adams, Mass., home at Wrigley's invitation to peruse the club's books.

"The light of truth is the strongest argument," said Wrigley. "Remove the aura of secrecy and it's no longer a cause for suspicion."

"The thing I want Dale Long and the players to learn is that gross receipts and net income are vastly different things."

"He will be shown just how much our operation costs, where the money is going and how expenses are met from year to year. We have nothing to hide and he can look at the books for the past 33 years if he wants."

Last week in Washington, club owners voted against a players' proposal that players' salaries in the future be equal to 20 per cent of the gross intake of each club.

Kentucky Tough Again

Xavier Quintet Also Shows Class

By SHELTON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

Kentucky and Xavier of Cincinnati, the NCAA and NIT basketball tournament winners last March, have taken right up where they left off last season. Both are unbeaten.

Kentucky, ranked second in this week's Associated Press poll, and Xavier, No. 16, looked impressive Thursday night. The Wildcats clawed Southern Methodist 72-60 for their fourth straight while the Musketeers coasted to a 69-52 triumph over Iona for their third in a row.

Two sophomores, Billy Ray Lickert and Dick Parsons, paced Kentucky over 18th-ranked SMU at Lexington. Lickert clicked for 23 points and Parsons chipped in with 19. As Coach Adolph Rupp's lads pulled away in the second half, Max Williams was high for the Mustangs with 21.

Xavier led all the way against Iona. Hustling Hank Stein, the NIT Most Valuable Player last season, and veteran Joe Viviano topped Xavier with 17 and 16 points.

Oklahoma State, ranked 20th, bowed to Baylor 43-37, being limited to just two field goals in the second half.

Oklahoma held Minnesota scoreless for a 12-minute span in the second half to turn back the Big Ten team 52-43. Wake Forest withstood a late surge to hand Florida State a 73-64 setback; Bill Telasky's 23 points sparked George Washington to a 91-67 lacing of Richmond in a Southern Conference fray; and Loyola of Chicago whipped Creighton 67-54 for its fourth straight victory.

In other games NYU throttled Boston College 81-70, LSU downed Louisiana College 59-53, Colgate thumped Columbia 72-65, Furman beat Newberry 78-66, Georgia Tech topped Georgia 73-66, Louisville overwhelmed Seton 81-47, St. Francis (Pa.) upended Westminster (W.Va.) 61-45 and Marshall (W.Va.) overcame Western Michigan 78-63 in a Mid-American Conference game.

Shakeup Jolts Davis Cup Squad

MELBOURNE (AP)—Disturbed over the team's conditioning, Captain Perry Jones yanked Barry McKay and Alex Olmedo out of Victorian Tennis Championships today and sent them to Perth to start preparing for the interzone Davis Cup final against the Italians.

The two U.S. team members defaulted their semifinal doubles match to Australia's Ashley Cooper and Neale Fraser after three days of trying to squeeze it between cold and intermittent rain.

"We found it necessary to get going on our preparations," Jones said. "The weather here has been too bad even to practice. The Italians have been in Perth for days getting ready."

Play in the Victorian tournament was washed out today by an all day rain. Efforts will be made to complete it Saturday.

The men's singles final sends favored Ashley Cooper against teammate Mal Anderson while the women's final involves Lorraine Cohan, Australia, and Sandra Reynolds, South Africa.

McKay, from Dayton, Ohio, and Peruvian Olmedo will join teammates Ham Richardson, Earl Buchholz and Chris Crawford in Perth where the United States meets the Italians Dec. 19-21.

Sanders Leads Field by Stroke

SANFORD, Fla. (AP)—For a resident of sunny Florida, Doug Sanders of Miami Beach is a pretty fair foul weather golfer.

The 25-year-old former University of Florida golf captain marched through a chill, biting drizzle Thursday to card a fine 32-33-65 and today started the second round of the $15,000 Sanford Open Tournament with a one stroke lead over a classy field.

Sanders' six under par established a record for the revised Mayfair Country Club course, where par 71 was bettered by 31 players in the opening round despite a steady, chilling rain and fairways and greens mushy soft.

One stroke back of Sanders was National Open champion Tommy Bolt of Paradise, Fla., who came in with 33-33-66. He had a two-stroke lead over eight players deadlocked in the 68 bracket. Eight more had 69 and 13 carded 70.

The 68 bracket included Wel Elis Jr., of Alderess, N. J.; George Bayer of Glen Eagles, Ill.; Bob Keller of Elgin Air Force Base; Al Bessellink of Grossinger, N.Y.; Billy Collins of Baltimore; Bob Winger of Odessa, Tex.; Bob Goetz of Tulsa, Okla., and Chick Harbert of Northville, Mich.

ROANOKE, Va. (AP)—Dr. Ralph W. Walton, 71, a one-armed physician from Montclair, N. J., survived a 350-foot plunge down an embankment when his car left the Blue Ridge Parkway. The car did not turn over. The doctor crawled back to the highway and flagged help.

Carter, Ladewig Totter Predict New Bowling Champs on TV Tonight

Lubanski Has Good Lead in Men's Group

CHICAGO (AP)—Some of the nation's leading men and women bowlers make their final bids today for the honors in the World Invitational Tournament. There was a possibility both defending champions would fail to retain their titles.

Eddie Lubanski of Detroit held a fairly comfortable lead as the 16 men finalists started firing in the final 16 games of the 64-game head-to-head matches. However, two shooters, including Don Carter, 1957 winner, still were considered very much in the race for the $5,000 first prize.

Replaces Boxing

Tonight's final match will be nationally televised (NBC 9 p.m. CST) replacing the regular Friday night boxing program.

Lubanski, who has often been a contender but never a champion in this rough match game competition, led second place Don Ellis of Chicago by 404 points. Lubanski finished Thursday's shooting with 240.15 points compared with 236.11 by Ellis. In third place is defending champion Carter of St. Louis with 233.10 points.

In the women's division, Pert Phyllis Noto of Brant, N. Y., a suburb of Buffalo, squeaked into first place Thursday by the slender margin of .01.

Miss Noto, who finished second in last year's tourney to Mrs. Ladewig, had 109.41 points at the end of 24 of a scheduled 32 games.

In second place is former National Doubles champion Elvira Toepfer of Detroit with 109.40.

Defending champion Mrs. Ladewig is buried in sixth place but is only 1.29 behind Miss Noto.

Jealousy Is Seen Cause of Fatal Cult Explosion

CHATSWORTH, Calif. (AP) — Long-smouldering jealousy of the ex-shipyard worker who became master of a religious cult was seen today as the cause of the dynamite death of 10 in the cult's headquarters.

So deep was the bitterness of two former members of the Fountain of the World cult toward its founder, Krishna Vanta, they willingly blew themselves to bits to carry out their plot to kill him, police said.

Detectives investigating Wednesday's bombing have uncovered seething emotions beneath the cult's calm surface of piety and faith.

In tape recordings left as their final testament before they went on their murderous mission, Peter Kamenoff and Ralph Muller accused Vanta of immoral acts with women members of the cult.

From other sources the investigators learned that Kamenoff had been expelled from the cult after his wife complained to Vanta that he had hit her, and that Muller was "excommunicated" because he tried to get his wife to leave the fold.

Members of the cult drew a different picture. They told the investigators that both men were jealous of Vanta and tried to found a rival cult after they left the Fountain of the World.

36,000 Now Idle In Chrysler Plants
DETROIT (AP) — More than 36,000 workers were idle today in Chrysler Corp. plants in the U. S. and Canada because of a strike at one key installation and layoffs by the company due to parts shortages.

As production ground to a halt on assembly lines from coast to coast, negotiations continued in an effort to seek a solution to a work standards dispute that caused the original walkout of 7,100 United Auto Workers members at the Dodge Main installation in Detroit.

The company said it has been forced to lay off additional thousands of workers as parts shortages developed.

Kiwanians Hear Talk on Thursday About Witchcraft

The realm of spooks, goblins and witches was explored in a talk given before the Kingston Kiwanis Club by Russell Hope Robbins, Ph.D., an authority on demonology and witchcraft. The speaker left his audience with the general feeling that the current interest in poltergeist, (noisy ghosts), possibly had its origin in the antics of children.

Guggenheim Winner
Dr. Russell Robbins is currently in this country as a visiting scholar at Harvard University. He is a Fellow Royal Society of Literature, and is a former recipient of a Guggenheim Fellowship in Literature.

Demonology and witchcraft has been the subject of study by Dr. Robbins for many years. A book written by the speaker is scheduled for publication in May 1959, in which he reveals many of the legends associated with witchcraft during the history of the world.

In the history of civilization, Dr. Robbins described witchcraft as "degrading, foul, loathsome, and barbaric," with "thought leaders of the past supporting the illusions on a hexed basis." He traced the torture of "witches in olden times" into a widening circle where many people were accused because of the unbearable tortures to which the informants were subjected. "Witch hunting grew through torture," said the speaker.

Convenient Belief
"Belief in the physical power of the Devil was convenient," said Dr. Robbins who maintained that people accepted as literal this power of the Devil or of evil.

Bringing his remarks on witchcraft to the modern era, Dr. Robbins referred to the poltergeist revelations which have occurred in recent years. The poltergeist was described as a "harmless little devil, with a child usually involved in each case." "Many of these cases cease after the child has been removed from the scene," stated Dr. Robbins.

Inferring that the poltergeist, (translated noisy ghost), was the creation of the juvenile mind, the speaker explained that the happenings usually took the form of "unexplained knockings, flight of objects through space, and the moving of heavy objects." He further explained that these supposedly supernatural occurrences could be the results of child activities whether accomplished consciously or unconsciously.

In conclusion, Dr. Robbins related the story of the "talking mongoose," a topic of demonology which occurred in England some years ago. He pointed out that the origin of the "talking mongoose" apparently came from the mind of a lonely little girl whose unsuccessful father grasped the opportunity to perpetuate the idea for money-making purposes.

Navy Fires Another Successful Regulus

EDWARDS, Calif. (AP) — The Navy has successfully fired a second Regulus II guided missile within a 24-hour period.

It was launched Thursday on the Mojave Desert. It sped 750 miles in a racetrack pattern over the inland missile range, then plunged from high altitude onto its target near Tonopah, Nev. The missile, which has a top speed of 1,300 miles an hour, was destroyed on impact. The Regulus

II fired from a test ship Wednesday had landing gear so it could be recovered for future training missions.

Pop, does our savings bank
bury all its dough like Fort Knox?

Not a chance, Pete! . . .
Every penny goes to work!

Pop has seen New York State's mutual savings banks help finance thousands of job-creating projects—highways, schools, hospitals, electric plants, public housing, and other local government improvements.

Even Pop may not know, though, how fast investments like these by the 128 savings banks in the state have grown.

Today they come to nearly half a billion dollars.

These savings banks provide capital for homes, too, and for industrial and commercial building.

Operated solely for the Pops and Poles of today and tomorrow, these banks keep the savings always at work—but always available.
